Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1121, as follows:

An Act providing for the erection construction and equipment of a new Pennsylvania Industrial School to take the place of the present Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon designating the manner of acquiring or setting aside of land for the erection and construction of the new school by The General State Authority authorizing the Commonwealth to lease the new school and its grounds from The General State Authority upon its completion and the Department of Welfare to manage and operate the same providing that the cost of maintaining inmates therein be borne by the Commonwealth and the counties to the extent and in the manner provided by law in the case of inmates maintained in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon and conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain State departments boards commissions and officers

Whereas The present Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon originally intended as a Middle State Penitentiary with its high walls and towers has all the aspects of a State Penitentiary and the addition of a medium security bloc has detracted little from its forbidding appearance and

Whereas The internal arrangement of the cell blocs with barred windows and double locked switches contradicts the idea that this institution is a method devoted to rehabilitation and

Whereas the erection of a new industrial school and the use of the present institution at Huntingdon for the detention of defective delinquents will accomplish one important step in the development of an adequate penal institution program for the Commonwealth and

Whereas It is the desire of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that The General State Authority construct such new industrial school and lease the same to the Commonwealth therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Welfare with the approval of the Governor shall select for acquisition either by the Department of Property and Supplies in the name of the Commonwealth or by The General State Authority with funds of the Authority a tract of land of not less than one thousand acres well supplied with water and capable of being sewered and drained for the erection and construction thereon by The General State Authority of an institution to be known as the Pennsylvania Industrial School with a capacity of not less than twelve hundred inmates to take the place of and to serve the same purposes as the present Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon The title to the lands so acquired shall be approved by the Attorney General If it shall be found that the Commonwealth owns State forest lands or other lands suitable in whole or in part for such use such lands may be designated by the Department of Welfare with the approval of the Governor and the department board or commission of the Commonwealth having possession and control of the same and used for the aforesaid purpose and any additional lands necessary may be selected and acquired as aforesaid

Section 2 Upon the acquisition of any land in the name of the Commonwealth or designation of any land of the Commonwealth as provided in section one the Department of Property and Supplies shall have authority to convey the same to The General State Authority for the purpose of having such Authority erect and construct thereon the new Pennsylvania Industrial School The plans and specifications of the school whether erected on land acquired directly by the General State Authority or by conveyance to it from the Commonwealth shall be subject to the approval of the Department of Welfare and shall provide for suitable buildings and an adequate water supply system sewage treatment works heat and electric power plant or plants service lines and other necessary equipment structures and improvements The buildings shall be of modern design plain and substantial and capable of extension as the needs of the institution may require The setting and the architecture shall express the principle of rehabilitation through the greatest possible freedom of choice and expression in work education and recreation consistent with the protection of society

Section 3 The Department of Welfare may enter into a agreement with The General State Authority for the use of inmates in the present Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon in improving the site of the new school the preparation of building materials the construction of new buildings and improvements pertinent thereto or to engage in farming or dairying work In the case of any such agreement the Department of Welfare shall have power to transfer from the present Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon such inmates as it may deem necessary for these purposes provided a suitable building or buildings are available for the custody of such inmates Such agreement shall require that The General State Authority shall pay to the Manufacturing Fund in the State Treasury for the labor of such inmates such wages for each inmate so employed as may be agreed upon in accordance with the laws regulating the employment of prison or inmate labor The expenses of maintaining such inmates at the site of the new school shall be borne by the respective counties from which they shall have been committed and shall be paid to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue as provided by law in the case of inmates maintained in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon but such actual expense shall be paid in the first instance by the Department of Welfare from appropriations made for such purposes

Section 4 The Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor is hereby authorized to enter into a lease for not more than fifty (50) years with The General State Authority to acquire the use of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School and any lands or farms connected therewith for the purposes of having the same managed and operated by the Department of Welfare In such case the management and operation of the school and the care maintenance and employment of the school and the care maintenance and employment of the inmates shall be the function of the Department of Welfare Subject to and in the manner provided in The Administrative Code of 1929 and its amendments the Department of Welfare shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of a superintendent deputy superintendent chaplain guards physicians mechanics clerks stenographers and other employes as may be deemed necessary for the proper maintenance and management of the school and the safekeeping therein of its inmates The compensation of all persons so appointed and all other expenses in connestion with the care and maintenance of inmates of said school shall be paid from the appropriation made to the Department of Welfare for such purposes but the Commonwealth shall be reimbursed for such expenditures by the respective counties from which such inmates were committed to the extent and in the manner provided by law in the case of inmates maintained in Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon

Section 5 Upon the completion of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School and after the execution of a lease of the same by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from The General State Authority the Department of Welfare shall transfer under the provisions of The Administrative Code of 1929 from the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon all persons who are then detained therein unless directed otherwise as provided by the Mental Health Act of July eleventh one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 998) and all books papers records documents in the possession of the said school and the board of trustees thereof Thereafter all commitments which were heretofore made by the courts of this Commonwealth to the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon shall be made to the new Pennsylvania Industrial School erected under the provisions of this act The Department of Welfare shall advise all of the courts of this Commonwealth of the date from and after which commitments shall be made to the new school

Section6 In the management and operation of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School the Department of Welfare shall have all the powers conferred and perform all the duties imposed by the laws of this Commonwealth on the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon All laws of this Commonwealth now relating to the care maintenance management safe-keeping employment traning and treatment pardon and parole of persons detained in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon shall be deemed to apply to persons detained in and committed to the new Pennsylvania Industrial School

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1122 on second reading entitled:

An Act providing for the erection construction and equipment of a Maximum Security State Penitentiary for the detention care maintenance and employment of maximum security prisoners transferred thereto from the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries designating the manner of acquiring or setting aside of land for the erection and construction thereon of the Penitentiary by The General State Authority authorizing the Commonwealth to lease the penitentiary and its grounds from The General State Authority upon its completion and the Department of Welfare to manage and operate the same providing that the cost of maintaining convicts therein be borne by the Commonwealth and the counties to the extent and in the manner provided by law in the case of convicts in State penitentiaries and conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain State departments boards commissionsh and officers

Hon. William P. Gallaher,
Chief Clerk of the House,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

There has been transmitted to me a copy of the Resolution of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, conveying the sympathy of its members for my family and myself in the death of my sister, Mrs. Anna Frommeyer.

I wish to express to them my sincere gratitude and heartfelt appreciation of their understanding of a great personal loss.

Will you, therefore, be good enough to inform the House of this acknowledgement of their kindness.

Very sincerely,

JOHN B. KELLY,
Secretary of Revenue.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HOLLAND (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 80

Whereas, The prevention and supression of crime, the detection and apprehension of criminals, and the conservation of public safety depend in large measure upon the efficiency and experience of local police officers; and the high cost of crime to the public is caused to a considerable extent by incompetency in new appointments and by constant changes in the personnel of municipal police forces; and

Whereas, The subject of civil service for the members of the police departments of various types of political subdivisions presents a serious problem to the present General Assembly, both in the number of bills introduced and in the variety and lack of uniformity in systems proposed; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a commission is hereby created which shall consist of six members, three of whom shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and three shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House. The commission shall organize, at the call of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, by electing a chairman, vice-chairman and a secretary The secretary need not be a member of the commission. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for all necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.

It shall be the duty of the commission to study and investigate (a) present systems of civil service applicable to policemen in the various political subdivisions of the State, (b) police civil service systems in other states and counties, (c) the advisability and feasibility of uniform police civil service provisions throughout the State.

The commission shall have power to recommend a tentative plan or plans for the establishment of new or the revision of present police civil service provisions, either uniform throughout the State or in groups of political subdivisions.

The commission shall have power to sit after the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly, and shall make a first report to the General Assembly of the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, not later than February first of that year, said report to contain a statement of the progress of its work and such drafts of legislation as it deems necessary to carry into effect the provisions and objectives of this resolution.

The commission shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of such experts, stenographers, and assistants as may be deemed necessary to carry out the work of the commission, but due diligence shall be exercised by the commission to enlist such voluntary assistance as may be available from citizens, research organizations, and other agencies in Pennsylvania or elsewhere, generally recognized as qualified to aid the commission with information or advice. The Legislative Reference Bureau, the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Internal Affairs, and other agencies of the Commonwealth, as well as all local governments within the Commonwealth, shall give the commission, on request, such information and assistance as may be reasonably accessible.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By MISS BRANCATO (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 81.

In the House of Representatives, May 10, 1937.

Whereas, There is a great need of playgrounds in the City of Philadelphia, particulary in those congested sections of the city, where the children have absolutely no place to play; and

Whereas, This problem of providing playgrounds for the children of Philadelphia is not a new one, but the question has always been, how are we to secure the money for this very worthy purpose; and

Whereas, The truth of the matter seems to be, that those who have controlled the funds which should have been used for this purpose years ago, have simply closed their eyes, their ears and their hearts. They have expressed sympathy, but it has not moved them to action in providing the funds; and

Whereas, Again, to all those who will listen, the voices of the children of Philadelphia are saying: "Please give us a place to play! You don't want us playing in the alleys where the germs fo disease parade and you don't want us in the streets upon the avenues of death—why then don't you give us a place to play and don't say "some other day"; and

Whereas, This appeal is directed to the Council of the City of Philadelphia, and they may say we have not the necessary funds; and

Whereas, This appeal is also directed to the Fairmount Park Commission and the Board of City Trusts, both of which have funds which should be used for the purpose. What is their reply to the children of Philadelphia?; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby urges the Fairmount Park Commission and the Board of City Trusts to undertake at once the creation of playgrounds in the congested districts of Philadelphia; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House, send copies to the City Council, the Fairmount Park Commission and the Board of City Trusts of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Welfare.

Section 802 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you today is House Bill No. 286 which legalizes horse-racing in Pennsylvania, and in the name of the many thousands of people that admire the sport and love it, and for the millions of dollars that are spent of Pennsylvania money in other states, I am going to ask you to vote in favor of this bill.

There are all around the State of Pennsylvania many states which today have legalized horse-racing. In 1934 there were sixteen tracks throughout the United, and over a period of two years that has increased to twenty-four tracks, including the track of the state of Delaware which will have horse-racing next month in that state. New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and Delaware, which is thirty-seven miles away from Philadelphia—and the state of New Jersey, which will legalize in 1939, all will have horse-racing, and I do not see why Pennsylvania, which is one of the largest states in the Union, cannot have this sport and have their citizens spend their money where they are rightfully entitled to spend it, in their own State. California this year has made through legalized racing in revenue two million dollars, and the state of Florida up to this date has made one million eight hundred thousand dollars and the state of Florida depends solely on the visitors that go there to play the horses.

In the state of Maryland, which is sixty-seven miles away from Pennsylvania we have four tracks, and after a careful study over the last meet that they had at Havre de Grace, the first Saturday of the meet twenty-five thousand went to the races. Of these twenty-five thousand people at least fifteen thousand were from the City of Philadelphia, and they took in six hundred thousand dollars in bets in one day. The next Saturday a similar incident occured, which means that within two weeks the state of Maryland had taken in through their pari-mutuel machines one hundred twenty thousand dollars that they placed in the treasury of the state of Maryland. I do not see why we of Pennsylvania cannot have the opportunity of having our own track here, spending our own money in Pennsylvania and bringing in the revenue into our own State Treasury.

The Kentucky Derby that was run last Saturday, and attended by many of our locals, took in over a million and a half in the pari-mutuel machines on last Saturday. The twenty-four states that have horce-racing today, I believe are as good morally as the State of Pennsylvania, where some of the people call legalized racing gambling.

I want to give you a story and a real incident and a decision that was handed down on May 6 in Pittsburgh by the Superior Court of Pennsylvania. I do not know whether you have it throughout the other counties, but in Philadelphia we have a teleflash system which is something like a little radio box, where information on horse-racing comes over the wires. In those places where they had the teleflash system the police broke in, in homes and other places where they thought they had the system which was delivering information over the wires.

The decision handed down by the Chief Justice Keller of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania upheld the legislation and the constitutionality of the teleflash system which makes it possible in the City of Philadelphia alone for every taproom, cigar store and poolroom to have a bookmaking shop and thus give the people an opportunity to place their money in betting in such places, with the result that no tax is being paid in the State. I don't think that is fair and just, and the money that these people spend could very well be taken care of by legalized racing at the tracks, and the State would then realize a good many millions of dollars over the course of a year from horse-racing. With these few facts before you, I sincerely believe that we should vote to pass House Bill 286 and give the people an opportunity to play the horses in a legalized way in the State. Pennsylvania is one of the greatest in the country in the breeding of horses, and at the Kentucky Derby two Philadelphia horses won first and second places at the Derby, while they do not have an opportunity to run on the soil on which they were born.

I ask you again in the names of the thousands of people who want legalized racing in Pennsylvania, and for the money that we can derive from it to vote in favor of this measure.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am proud today that the Quaker ancestry of his Excellency the Governor has impelled him to speak out in unmistakable terms against committing the State and the Quaker forbears of Pennsylvania to legalize gambling.

Members of the House, I am representing sixty-eight thousand people who had their beginning among the Scotch Presbyterians who came to this country in quest of liberty of worship. At Harris Ferry here at Harrisburg Governor Hamilton gave a grant of land to the Scotch Presbyterians when they came to this country for religious liberty, beginning at the Susquehanna and reaching into the setting sun. From Cumberland, the habitation of these Scotch Presbyterians twenty-six counties received their birth, and it is from here that the McCulloughs of Armstrong, the Kelsos of Lawrence, the Cunninghams of Washington and various and countless numbers of of those good individuals who have made up the population of these twenty-six counties of Pennsylvania received their birth of citizenry.

Beginning at the Susquehanna these Scotch Presbyterians brought with them as the old Romans did when they set out to form colonies, their lares and penates. They founded on headwaters of the Conodoguinet their churches and built around these churches their communities and, these communities spoke out the eternal principals of Christianity, the principles of Christianity that were founded upon the experiences of the race; race that began its existence at the foot of Mt. Sinaia. These eternal principles of Christianity, members of the House, embodied frugality, they embodied honesty, they embodied principles of the dignity of labor, and I beg of you, those of you who have traversed this beautiful valley of ours to look upon those old farmsteads and those substantial old stone houses and see how out of the dignity of labor these old farmers secured comity, secured dignity, secured for themselves the security of which we speak so much today.

As we talk about this subject of horse-racing today I do not appeal to you as a religious fanatic, but I come to you as one who grew up in the horse and buggy days. I belonged to the days, ladies and gentlemen, as many of you have belonged, when a country boy in order that he might have a country girl found it necessary to have a horse. In order that he might have a beautiful girl he found it necessary to have a good horse, and I remember in my days of youth when up and down the highways of our country, up and down the highways of Pennsylvania clouds of dust arose out of the spirit of contest, the spirit of contest of good horses. Yes, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I love good horses; I have good horses, and I enjoy the contest that comes from good horses.

Everyone of our forbears of this land across the river, whether they be Scotch Presbyterians, whether they be Germans, or whether they be French Hugenots, were founded on an ancestry that loved good horses and loved good husbandry. This is not a bill to encourage the development of good horses or sportsmanship that grows out of good horses. Today we are attempting to brush aside all the traditions upon which Pennsylvania was built. We are here to commit ourselves not to good horsemanship or to good sportsmanship or to the spirit of contest, but to condone in Pennsylvania a practice entirely in violation of the principles of William Penn. We are here to commit ourselves to legalized gambling.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, in this morning's Philadelphia paper there appeared an article as follows:

The Melchiorre bill legalizing horse-racing and pari-mutuel betting in Pennsylvania was assured of passage by the House of Representatives to night when Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence agreed to keep "hands off" when the measure comes to a vote tomorrow afternoon.

Lawrence released members of his Allegheny County Democratic delegation and told them to vote as they please when the bill comes up as a special order of business.

As the bill was advanced in the House tonight, it was amended to provide for the allocation of revenue from licenses and pari-mutuel betting to the general fund for unemployment relief purposes.

And so, Mr. Speaker, I wish at this time to read into the record a statement:

"Certain persons have circulated a false report that I have taken a hands-off attitude with reference to the pari-mutuel betting bill now before the Legislature which would establish legalized gambling for eleven million people, few of whom want it.

I want to re-affirm that I am unalterably opposed to this betting bill. I see no benefit to the masses of our people, many of whom are economically unable to afford to gamble, and I am convinced it would bring with it many evils. Although I am a lover of horses and horse-racing, I am firmly opposed to legalized gambling in Pennsylvania."

(Signed) DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not propose to speak on this measure, and I speak for this measure because I have become utterly convinced in my own mind that legalizing of horse-racing and of pari-mutuel betting in Pennsylvania on horses is not the great destroyer of the moral fibres of the people of Pennsylvania that some opponents of the bill feel that it is.

It is true that the State of Pennsylvania from its earliest days was a haven for persons who came here from other lands and from many other lands to find religious liberty. But to go back farther and trace the history of the persons who came to America to find religious liberty, we find that they came to find an expression of religious liberty and thoughts which was repressed by autocrats in Europe. We find that they were compelled to come here because they thought that they did not have the right to say and do as they pleased. They were persons—I am not drawing this as an anology to the horse-racing bill—but merely as an example of what the repression of free thought and free expression are of any of those things that go to make up the moral fibre of any people. When these people came here they felt that they had come to a place where they could do as they pleased within certain limitations, and think as they pleased. We have two things to consider; Mr. Melchiorre has adequately covered the question of the profit to be obtained by the Commonwealth. I speak, however, from another viewpoint. This country at one time tried to legislate against a human impulse, a human trait that is in most of us. People wanted to drink liquor, and during the hectic days after the World War a group that had fought for years to make this country as dry as the Sahara, endeavored to bring into the minds of the people, who were hysterical with the war the idea of prohibition. Those who opposed prohibition continued to do so. Those who liked prohibition were those who sought to make evil gains from it. Those were the people who were repressed from doing what they wanted to do. Good citizens were compelled to get their drink of liquor in a manner which they did not want to do, but because they would not repress their human instincts, they were compelled to go to the back door to do that which they should have been able to do at the front door.

A human trait which no one can deny, a human instinct, is the desire to gamble. Everybody likes to take a chance, whether it is for five cents or five dollars or whatever amount, they want to take a chance. That is a human instinct that is embodied in us as far back as the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. We are now coming in to this Legislature to say whether or not we shall farther repress the honest citizens of this State in their desire to exercise that which is a human instinct in them. We have come to say that we cannot legally—if this bill is defeated—bet on horse-racing in Pennsylvania. May I point out to you that thousands of bets are illegally made every day in Philadelphia, and I am advised by the country members that the same thing goes on around the country stores or any other place where they congregate in the rural districts.

Why not make these people honest? Why not give these people the opportunity of betting under a supervised system where they can get a fair return or an adequate return or a proper return for their betting. I say that a fight against gambling is not a fight against legalized horse-racing. I say that every member of this House who says that gambling is not good for us, that gambling is vicious or that gambling is against the law of the land or against morals, I say go back to your districts and get a more strict enforcement of your gambling laws. But I do not believe there is any police force in this land that has ever been successful in wiping out gambling completely. I say if people want to gamble, and if you do not let them gamble, they are going to do it anyway, so you take an honest man and make him dishonest under the law, in the eyes of the law. I say if you allow legalized gambling in Pennsylvania you will allow these people to go to a track at certain times of the year, as many members of the House do and as I do, go once a year to the track and make a bet and have your fun. It is not something which undermines the moral fibre of the people. You are approaching a sane and comprehensive plan for getting rid of that very bad thing in the morals of our people, gambling. But if you are going to bring this out and get it into the light of day and allow persons to look each other in the eye, and we must recognize it, let us do it in the right way, in the light of day where all persons can see it, and it can be supervised so that people cannot be adversely affected.

I ask that this House vote unanimously in favor of House Bill 286.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I traveled four hundred miles from last night about eight o'clock until about half an hour ago, and I tried to do right by my district, and I tried to do right by my constituents in appearing in my seat, which I think is only my duty to my constituents and to the honor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I did that for only one reason. I knew that today this bill, which I think is of very great importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was coming up for a final vote.

I myself personally have never seen a horse-race in my life. I don't know whether I would jump over the fence or whether I would try to be a jockey myself if I did see one, but I can honestly say that I have never made a bet on a horse yet. Of course it may sound strange, but I never want to lay a bet upon a horse as long as the law exists upon the statute books which makes a criminal out of me. That law is today is the same law that existed upon the books not so long ago when to take a mere sip of what some people thought was intoxicating liquor was a crime. Today that same thing some people believed in certain respects was a crime is legalized, and you and I do not think anything of a person who takes a sip of mild beverage or of liquor. Why is it that whenever this Keystone State tries to place laws upon the books to such an extent that they will benefit quite a number of people, that the reactionaries of this State get up and holler "You are murdering our religion." Now, I don't want to hurt anybody's religion. I worship my poor mother back home, who is a devout Christian, and I pay homage to anyone who respects his religion, because I know that without religion this country could not go ahead. But here you are. What is happening in our State? It is needless for me to tell you ladies and gentlemen. You know what is happening, not only are wagers being placed upon horses, but money is being taken out of this Commonwealth and placed in the treasuries of other states of this United States. We ourselves could very well use that money. We know how hard the taxpayer is being pressed in order to meet his just taxation today, and here we have a measure before us, a measure that will not hurt anyone, and I defy anyone in this Commonwealth to show me where this particular bill will affect or hurt anyone.

The only thing that this bill will do is to bring to our coffers money which will go into the General Fund, and that money in the General Fund then will be used for all purposes, the legitimate purposes of this Commonwealth. And when I say legitimate purposes, I have mainly in mind the relief question in Pennsylvania.

They tell you that it is illegal to place a bet, and I say to you that if it is illegal to place a bet, against the morals, to place a bet upon a horse, it is also illegal to buy a newspaper that has either on the front page or any part of it an advertisement which shows the way the horses are going to run, and the odds on each horse in each race that is going to take place on a certain date. If we could say honestly that betting is wrong under this act, then every newspaper that is published in the State of Pennsylvania is guilty of a crime. I will put that up to any attorney in this House tonight, and I challenge anyone in the Attorney General's office or in the office of the Attorney General of the United States Government, that there is no crime committed when today the newspapers are allowed to publish records of races and places where the races are to be held, and still you cannot place a bet according to that theory.

I represent a district which has one hundred sixty-nine thousand people, and out of that group of people I know what they told me in the last election. They knew where I stood; I stand for liberalization of laws, and that is the reason why I appear before you now, because I know that in the past one hundred fifty years every time you tried to liberalize the so-called blue laws of the State of Pennsylvania you were hounded by persons who said "You are wrecking the government." Yes, I know. We wrecked the government when we put Roosevelt in, Didn't we? We made it a better place for everybody to live in. Roosevelt was for liberalization of the laws. Roosevelt took it upon himself to liberalize those laws which made persons criminals not only in the State of Pennsylvania but in the United States.

In closing, just let me say this, that along with the newspapers you have on the air, on radio stations results and news flashes and the actual races themselves being broadcast. Again I say if it is a crime to bet, it is also crime for us to listen in on that radio. If it is a crime to do one thing along one line, it is also a crime to do the same thing on the other line, and the poor people who live in the State of Pennsylvania,—and I happen to be one,—if I do want to see a race, I cannot afford to go to one in Delaware, Maryland or Kentucky. I want to see a race here and give the people of Pennsylvania, the poor people a chance to see races in the same way as men of wealth. If you cannot legalize horse racing in Pennsylvania, vote your conscience, but I say give the people a chance to vote for legalized racing. Give the people a chance to have legalized horses racing, and I ask you to vote for this bill, which I know is a good bill.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise in support of House Bill No. 286. The other gentleman, members of the House, claim that they never played the ponies, but I claim that I have.

The people of our State must be in the forefront of activity and progress. They possess initiative comparable with the people of any state in the Union,—nevertheless, it is surprising how backward we are in seizing upon simple opportunities that would secure large revenues for our Commonwealth. I am referring to the sport of horse racing. While this wholesome pastime has often been referred to as the "Sports of Kings", it is equally the "Sport of Commoners". Our citizens annually contribute very largely to this sport in the adjoining states of Maryland, West Virignia, Ohio and New York, and their treasuries and merchants reap a harvest from it.

During the year 1935 the state of Maryland received in tax revenue from racing $1,011,379. The small state of Rhode Island received the sum of $1,042,681 during that year. These amounts were larger during the year 1936.

The "Sport of Kings" as operated today, is "big business". A single modern racing establishment represents, in land and improvements, an investment of $2,000,000. It employs over twelve hundred persons, with concessions affording employment for an additional five hundred individuals. Besides the large sums of money spent by thousands of racing enthusiasts who come from all parts of the world, the horsemen alone who participate in a single meeting number eighteen hundred and spend large sums of money for the maintenance of themselves and their horses.

It is of benefit to the transportation companies, hotels, theatres and merchants. It has greatly benefited southern Florida and California. Feature stories and pictures of important meetings are sent to all parts of the globe. News services, photo syndicates, news-reel companies, sport editors, writers and correspondents all work at feverish pace during the racing season. Broadcasts of the important stakes and handicaps are international in their coverage. All of this helps our State.

The value to the farmer of the thoroughbred horse is far greater than most people realize. Thirty years of experience of the Breeding Bureau of the Jockey Club, which gives the farmers of New York the right to breed mares to thoroughbred stallions, has shown the tremendously improved value of horses because of the infusion of the thoroughbred strain. The improvement of the breed of horses is no idle phrase. Confirmation of the experience of the Jockey Club Breeding Bureau is afforded by the Remount Bureau of the United States Army.

Pennsylvania has notable horse farms, including those of Samuel D. Riddle at Glen Riddle, Pa.; of Walter M. Jeffords; of Joseph E. and George D. Widener and others. As you all know(Mr. Riddle is the owner of the famous "Man of War".

Pennsylvania is the leading State in the nation from the standpoint of the number of horses available engaged in steeplechase and hunt meets. The bone and sinew of racing is the class of men and women supporting it, and the benefits which accrue to farmers and others are due greatly to the voluntary contributions which such wealthy men and women make.

It is time the State recognized, to its own interest, that such persons and the sport should be helped and encouraged for the benefit of the public, and the entire project placed upon a more equitable and sound basis. Some of our nationally known steeplechase and hunt meets, which are supported mostly by private enterprise, are the Rose Tree, Radnor, Sewickley, Huntington Valley, Rolling Rock, Wissahickon, Whitemarsh and Pickering.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has all the natural and other resources necessary to best supply and support the breeding and raising of horses, and the construction and operation of racing centers by citizens and officials of known reputation and integrity to insure the maintenance of this sport upon the highest levels.

There are now twenty-four states that have legalized racing under the control of State Racing Commissions, most of which operate under or not inconsistent with the Rules of Racing adopted by the Jockey Club. Virtually all of these states operate under the pari-mutuel system, which system is best adapted to a largely populated State like Pennsylvania.

There is no reason why the citizens of Pennsylvania should have to go outside of their own State to enjoy the "Sport of Kings". I do not think the citizens of Pennsylvania, nor the Governor nor the legislative bodies believe such a condition should continue to exist. I cannot believe that prejudice of fear or hyprocrisy will stand in the way of an effort to have our citizens enjoy this outdoor sport within their own State, or to prevent our State from receiving the substantial revenues.

I hope a model Horse Racing Bill will be enacted into law and approved by our Governor. This, I believe, would be one of the most important and forward steps in his administration and would permit the people of Pennsylvania to enjoy a liberal institution that they have been long denied.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. HERING filed the following reason for his vote.

I am voting "yes" on this Bill because the revenues occurring under this act will be used for unemployment relief.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that permission of the House be granted to the Committee on Railroads and Railways to hold a public hearing on House Bill No. 607.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I ask for a special order of business on House Bill No. 1839, to be called up at 3:30 p. m. today, and the reason I did that was because some of the members of the House were absent, and I felt that the problem that is confronted in this bill is very important, and I would like to have as many members of the House present as it would be possible to have. Consequently I think that if it would be possible I would like to have the gentleman withdraw his motion in order to consider this bill first.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to the granting of permission for the committee to meet??

Mr. MARINO. I do. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAINE. Mr. Speaker, when was the Chair notified that this hearing was going to be held?

The SPEAKER. The announcement is in this week's history. The arrangements were made last week.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appear to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred and fifteen members or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

SPECIAL ORDER OF HOUSE BILL No. 1839

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business on final passage fixed for this time, House Bill No. 1839, Printer's No. 717.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1839, as follows:

An Act to define the power of the Supreme and Superior Courts in declaring laws enacted by the General Assembly to be unconstitutional

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. That hereafter neither the Supreme Court nor the Superior Court of this Commonwealth shall have any power or jurisdiction to declare invalid as offending any provision of the Constitution of this Commonwealth or any law or part thereof heretofore or hereafter enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth unless six judges of the said court shall concur in the decision holding such law or part thereof unconstitutional

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I move that the special order on House Bill No. 1839, be postponed until tomorrow, Wednesday, at 2:00 p. m.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was up last night and the gentleman from Washington asked at that time to have it made a special order of business today, because the House was light. Now he is again asking for a postponement until tomorrow, evidently for the same reason. Tomorrow we may again be in the same position and I think we ought to go ahead with the business of the House. We have only covered a very few bills this morning and I think we ought to proceed with this bill at this time.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, a number of the committees are out considering legislation that is important. In view of the fact that some of the members who are on the committee are at public hearings I have requested that this bill be postponed until tomorrow in order that they may be given an opportunity to express their sentiments on the measure. That is the reason that I am asking for postponement.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speoker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Marino.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARINO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from Washington to tell us how many men have asked to have it postponed?

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I was asked by—I don't know, I think there were about ten or twelve members.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, fifty members having voted in the affirmative and ninety-four in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. BAINE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. BAINE. Would it be in order, Mr. Speaker, to ask for a poll of the House?

The SPEAKER. The vote has just shown that there is a quorum present.

Mr. BAINE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a call of the House.

A call of the House was taken and was as follows:

The SPEAKER. One hundred seventy-nine members have answered when their names were called, a quorum is present.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move you that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARINO. Mr Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROWN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, at yesterday's session the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, made an address to this Assembly relative to the bill that is now before the House for consideration and I desire to ask him some questions with reference to some of the statements that he made at that time. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that House Bill No. 1839 is an attempt to encoach upon the power of the judiciary?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Washington I would say that I do.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that there is anywhere in the Constitution a provision whereby power is given to the judicial branch of the government to declare an act of this Assembly unconstitutional?

Mr. BROWN. In aswer to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Speaker, I would say there is no place in the Constution that gives the right to the court to declare acts of the Legislature unconstitutional.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the judicial branch of the government constitutionally has that power?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Washington, I would say yes.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to follow the gentleman's reasoning. If the Constitution does not specifically give that power to the judicial branch of the government from whence do they get it?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe I can answer the gentleman categorically. If he would permit me to make a statement, I can perhaps say what is meant by implied powers under the Constitution and furthermore I would say to the gentleman it would be a long discussion. If the gentleman wishes it I will be more than happy to provide him with it.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate it if the gentleman would go into a discussion of this matter.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am not trying to evade the question, but if the gentleman wants to interrogate me I will be interrogated. If the gentleman wants me to make a speech I will make a speech. I am in a dilemna; I do not know what to do myself.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I also regard the gentleman from Allegheny as a very able speaker, and I feel that he should make a speech on the subject; I would like to hear him.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think every student of history here knows full well that the Constution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, patterned after the Constitution of the United States of America, is not all-embracive in that it comprises much more than you cannot find in the written words, taking the document and trying to find in the language all of its implications.

On this particular subject I take this position, and I find my authority in a very celebrated case which I cited to this House last night, the cases of Sharpless versus the Mayor of Philadelphia, found in our Pennsylvania Supreme Court reports in Volume 21, page 147, wherein the learned Chief Justice made this statement, which I will reiterate: "The General Assembly cannot therefore pass any law in conflict with the rightfully authority of Congress, nor perform a judicial or executive function, nor violate the popular proceedings reserved by the Declaration of Rights, nor change the organic structure of the government, nor exercise any other power prohibited in the Constitution.'

The organic structure of our structure of our government embraces not simply the spoken words of the Constitution. When the founders of this country came to this country they brought with them the organic structure of the government. A part of that government was to leave silent the Constitution on the question of the authority of the court except to say that the full judicial power shall be invested in that court.

May I refer you to the common law and may I refer you to the history of the common law? If the forefathers of this country had intended that the Legislature should have power that is given the House of Parliament, they would have said so. The courts have from the time the memory of man runneth not to the contrary uniformly held that the power to declare laws of Congress and laws of the Commonwealth unconstitutional, is a constitutional power, although not spoken in the words of the Constitution.

I say to you that that is as much the organic structure of this government as any implied power. If you take away the Constitution of Pennsylvania and likewise from the Constitution of the United States the implied powers that have been promulugated by the courts from the time of the establishment of this country and of this Commonwealth, I say to you that you take away not only the organic structure of this law, but you take away the fundamental principle upon which Democratic government rests. In answer to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Marino, I say again that there is nothing in the Constitution except by implication, which implication has become such a strong principle of our organic structure that it is as much a part of the Constitution as any word or sections giving the full power to the judiciary in all questions that involve the courts.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROWN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, then gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, has stated that there is no specific power given to the judicial branch of the government and what he has stated comes about through implied power?

Mr. BROWN. I do state that, Mr. Speaker. The implied power, coupled with the fact that all of the implications arising from the Constitution are implied power that touch upon that support the organic structure of our government.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the legislative power of this Commonwealth is vested in the General Assembly?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I so feel and want it to stay there.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, does the bill that is up for consideration involve in part the same principle that was contained in a resolution that was passed by the House on February 15, 1937, memoralizing Congress to authorize additional Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States,—in general principle?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Marino, I shall say emphatically it does not.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am perhaps quite unfortunate in having as an opponent on this measure one of our most able members. I recognize the fact that he is a man of great ability and that his stand in this matter is absolutely sincere, but I differ somewhat as to his ideas and his interpretation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth.

My conception of government is that government in this country, in this Commonwealth and in the United States, also is divided into three branches and that each branch has a particular function and a particular responsibility to perform. My contention is that the responsibility of making all law or legislative authority rests entirely with the legislature. I further contend that as far as the judicial branch of government is concerned that the judiciary should be confined to a purely judicial province; that the scope of their authority is to interpret the law that we pass, and to apply the law to the particular case that is before them. If they perform that duty and do it well they have done their part. Whenever the judiciary extends its jurisdiction or authority, it takes a step that strikes at the very foundation of our democracy.

I believe that the bill that is before the House is one that will restore the intended functions to each branch of government. We all recognize the fact that government has a practical aspect; government is instituted to serve the people; government is instituted to serve them because they could not be served in certain ways were it not for the fact that government exists, and I believe in order to serve the people that certain legislation must be passed.

Not long ago a great leader of the modern day said that he saw one-third of the United States ill clothed, one-third of the United States ill housed, one-third of the United States ill fed, and it is only through legislative action that we can meet the problems that confront us, to eliminate that one-third or at least to lessen the number of people who are ill clothed, ill sheltered and ill fed. When he made that statement from Washington City, Franklin Roosevelt could well have said that more than three million of those people are within the boundaries of Pennsylvania. In order for us to meet our problem here intelligently and in order for us to meet our problem in a way as to lessen that number of unfortunate people, I believe that it is the duty of this legislature to enact into law legislation that the people desire. I believe that the legislature, in order to meet the crying needs of the people, has presented many ideas to the honorable members of this House in order to meet the problem. We have passed already a milk control bill in order to meet the specific problem of the farmer; we have either passed or intend to pass and have under consideration other legislation that the people are asking for, compensation laws, a miners' certificate bill for the coal miners; full crew and train limit bills for the railroad workers; a chain store tax in order to aid the small business man; a new election code in order to have better and cleaner elections in the Commonwealth; a bill sponsored by Senator McGinnis, which was passed finally yesterday, which is an act providing for the right of employes to organize, and so forth. We have laws of all sorts and of all phases, to help the professional people, to help the small business man, to help the farmer, to help the miner, to help the laborer and to help the people of this Commonwealth, and in every instance whenever this legislation was passed by this House we find that there is not one single, solitary important measure that is passed unless the question of its constitutionality arises. I believe that the courts of this Comonwealth have their functions, I believe that the judicial branch of the Commonwealth has its functions, but whenever they invalidate acts of this legislature they are taking upon themselves a legislative function and not a judicial function. My contention is that when an act passes this House, passes the Senate and is signed by the Governor, that act constitutes the complete expression of opinion of a sovereign people and is not subject to review by the courts, because acts which are passed by this Legislature are acts of a political nature, with regard to policy. Every act that is considered here is an act regarding policy which has been discussed in the previous campaign. When the judges of this Commonwealth or the judicial branch of the Commonwealth invalidate such an act, they are taking away the will of a sovereign people. I believe that the legislative authority belongs in this House, and I, for one, am unwilling to relinquish any of any authority to the judicial branch of government. I, for one, am willing to turn over to the judicial branch of the government or to surrender any of the rights of the people from my district. If the laws passed by this General Assembly do not meet with the approval of the people, if the acts that go through this House and the Senate across the way ,and are signed by the Governor, do not represent the political philosopy of the people of this Commonwealth they have redress in that they can elect new members of the Legislature every two years, who will represent them in their desires and in their wishes.

As far as concerns the suggestion which I made with reference to requiring a six to one decision of the Supreme Court, or to state it more accurately to require six members of the Supreme or Superior Court to concur before they can invalidate an act of this Assembly, I desire to allay the fears of some who believe that this is an idea that is far afield, that it is an idea that is new, that it is an idea that is untried, and it is an idea that is risky. I submit to you, members of the House, that the provision of this act requiring six justices to concur before they can invalidate an act to the Assembly is nothing new. One of the great leaders of liberal political thought in America, Senator Norris of Nebraska, has a bill in the Congress of the United States at the present time, requiring that seven justices must concur before they can invalidate an act of Congress. Our sister state of Ohio since 1930 has required that six justices out of seven must concur before they can invalidate an act of the Ohio Legislature. The act that is before you this afternoon is asking for the same thing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, requiring six justices of the Supreme or Superior Court, learned in the law, to agree before they can invalidate an act passed by the House, passed by the Senate and signed by the Governor. I do not believe that this is asking too much; I do not believe that the principle involved in this bill is too harsh; I believe that it will result in a better handling of the problem that confronts us and that's why I am supporting this measure and asking the membership of this House to vote in the affrmative in supporting it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as folows:

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CURRED IN BY HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, noncurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1284, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic between the eastern and western sections of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near Middlesex in Cumberland County to a point at or near Irwin in Westmoreland County providing for the creation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and conferring powers and imposing duties on said Commission authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of such turnpike providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance operation and repair of the turnpike making such bonds exempt from taxation constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances prescribing conditions upon which such turnpike shall become free providing for condemnation granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the Commission and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House recede from its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that the House do concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

HOUSE BILL No. 1712.

A Supplement to the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 198) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" increasing the powers now exercised by the judges of said court and making the judges of the County Court in and for the County of Allegheny available for use in other courts in the same judicial district

REQUEST TO USE HALL OF HOUSE WITHDRAWN

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, a short time ago I asked consent of the House to hold a meeting tomorrow by the Home Rule Association. I understand that it is the custom of the House not grant permission to any person to have a meeting in the House during the period of the session. I think that that is probably a good rule, and the association has very willingly agreed to withdraw their request. I, therefore, withdraw the request to have the use of the hall of the House tomorrow for the Home Rule Association.

Section 1103 Placing the Question on the Ballot Election Thereon

(a) The county election board may upon their own motion submit to the qualified electors of the county or of any city borough or township thereof at any general or municipal election the question "Shall voting machines be used in the (county city borough or township) of .....?"

(b) The county election board upon receipt of a request from the council of any city or borough or from the commissioners or supervisors of any township said request being evidenced by the filing of a copy of a resolution certified by the secretary or clerk of the council commissioners or supervisors or upon the filing of a petition with them signed by qualified electors of the county city borough or township equal in number to at least one per cent of the total number of electors who voted in said county city borough or township at the preceding general or municipal election but in no case less than fifty unless the total number of electors who voted therein at the preceding general or municipal election was less than one hundred in which case one-half of the number so voting shall be sufficient shall at the next general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days thereafter submit to the qualified electors of such county city borough or township the question "Shall voting machines be used in the (county city borough or township) of .....?"

(c) The county board shall cause the said question to be printed upon the ballots to be used at the election in the form and manner provided by the laws governing general and municipal elections

(d) The election on said question shall be held at the places during the hours and under the regulations provided by law for holding general and municipal elections and shall be conducted by the election officers provided by law to conduct such elections The election officers shall count the votes cast at the elections on said question and shall make return thereof to the county election board of the county as required by law said returns shall be computed by the county election board or other return board and when so computed a certificate of the total number of electors voting "Yes" and of the total number of electors voting "No" on such question shall be filed in the office of the county election board and copies thereof certified by the county election board shall forthwith be furnished to the Secretary of the Commonwealth and to the county commissioners or other appropriating authority

(e) Where the qualified electors of any city borough or township vote in favor of the adoption of voting machines in such city borough or township a vote on the question of adoption of voting machines by the qualified electors of the entire county containing therein such city borough or township held at the same time or at a subsequent time the result of which vote is against the adoption of voting machines shall not be considered as a vote to discontinue the use of voting machines in such city borough or township

(f) If a majority of the electors of any county city borough or township voting on such question shall vote against the adoption of voting machines the question shall not again be submitted to the voters of such political subdivision within a period of one hundred and three weeks

(g) Whenever under the provisions of this section the question of the adoption of voting machines is about to be submitted to the electors of any county city borough or township it shall be the duty of the county commissioners or other authority which levies taxes for county purposes in such county to ascertain whether current funds will be available to pay for said machines if adopted and purchased or whether they have power to increase the indebtedness of the county in an amount sufficient to pay for the same without the consent of the electors and if such current funds will not be available and the power to increase the indebtedness of the county in a sufficient amount without the consent of the electors is lacking it shall be the duty of the county commissioners or other authority aforesaid to submit to the electors of the county in the manner provided by law at the same election at which the adoption of voting machines is to be voted on the question whether the indebtedness of such county shall be increased in an amount specified by them sufficient to pay for such voting machines if adopted

Section 1104 Installation of Voting Machines (a) If a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question shall vote in the affirmative the county election board of the said county shall purchase for each election district of such county city borough or township one or more voting machines of a kind or kinds approved by the Secretary of the Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and of sufficient capacity to accommodate the names of a reasonable number of candidates for all public and party offices which under the provisions of existing laws and party rules are likely to be voted for at any future election and shall notify the Secretary of the Commonwealth in writing that they have done so The county election board shall provide machines in good working order and shall preserve and keep them in repair Voting machines of different kinds may be used for different districts in the same county city borough or township In each election district in which voting machines are used the county election board may provide one voting machine for each five hundred registered voters or fraction thereof therein and shall provide one voting machine for each six hundred registered voters or fraction thereof therein Provided however That the Courts of Quarter Sessions upon petition presented by either the county election board or by ten or more qualified electors of any such election district may order that one additional voting machine be provided for any such election district of the court shall be of the opinion that such additional voting machine shall be necessary in such district for the convenience of the voters and the public interests

(b) Such voting machines shall be installed either simultaneously or gradually in political subdivisions which adopt them Upon the installation of voting machines in any election district the use of paper ballots therein shall be discontinued except as otherwise provided herein

(c) If voting machines are installed gradually they shall be introduced in the case of counties in alphabetical order by cities boroughs and townships so that they will first be used in the city borough or township the name of which is first in alphabetical order and then in the city borough or township the name of which is next in alphabetical order and so on In cities boroughs and townships they shall be introduced in numerical or alphabetical order by wards and election districts if any so that they will first be used in the first election district of the first ward and then in the second election district of the first ward and so on After they have been installed in all the election districts in the first ward they shall be installed in the same manner in the second ward then in the third ward and so on In any event the machines shall be installed as rapidly as practicable after the electors have voted in favor of them

(d) If the question hereinbefore provided shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the county city borough or township and the majority of the electors voting thereon shall have voted favorably thereon and if the county election board shall not within one year have executed their contract or contracts providing for the purchase or procurement of voting machines for use at the next general municipal or primary election occuring at least one year and sixty days after the referendum then the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith in writing notify the said county election board that after the expiration of thirty days he under the authority of this act on behalf of the said county will award make and execute such contract or contracts unless the said county election board meanwhile shall have made and executed the same

(e) If upon the expiration of said thirty days the county election board still shall not have made and executed the contract or contracts providing for the delivery of machines as aforesaid the Secretary of the

Commonwealth on behalf of the said county and upon the approval of the Attorney General as to form shall thereupon award make and execute a contract or contracts for the purchase or procurement of a sufficient number of voting machines approved as required by this act for each election district within each such county city borough or township and the cost of such voting machines including the delivery thereof and of making and entering into the said contract or contracts including the preparation and printing of specifications and all other necessary expense incidental thereto shall be the debt of the said county and upon the certificate of the Secretary of the Commonwealth it shall be the duty of the controller if any to allow and of the treasurer of the county to pay the sum out of any appropriation available therefor or out of the first unappropriated moneys that come into the treasury of the county

(f) Provided however That if the county election board or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall find it impracticable to procure a voting machine or voting machines for each election district of the county city borough or township for use at the general municipal or primary election then next ensuing they or he shall provide as many machines as it shall be practicable to procure and as soon thereafter as practicable shall provide the remainder of such machines required hereunder The machines shall be installed in the election district or districts in the manner provided for the gradual introduction of voting machines in paragraph (c) of this section

(g) Any county city borough or township may by a majority vote of its qualified electors cast at any general election held not earlier than one hundred and three weeks after they have voted to adopt such machines direct the discontinuance of the use of voting machines at elections held in such county city borough or township The question for the discontinuance of the use of such voting machines shall be submitted to the voters subject to the same requirements as to resolution or petition and signatures thereon as is required for the submission of the question on the authorization of the use of such voting machines Such question for discontinuance must be submitted to the qualified electors of the county or municipality which voted on the question of the adoption of voting machines and the question of discontinuance voting machines Where the qualified electors of any city borough or township forming a part only of any county which has previously voted to adopt voting machines for the entire county unless the qualified electors of such city borough or township have previously by separate vote of its qualified electors voted in favor of the adoption of voting machines Where the qualied electors of any city borough or township and the qualified electors of the entire county containing therein such city borough or township both have voted by separate questions in favor of the adoption of voting machines a subsequent vote by the qualified electors of the entire county in favor of discontinuance shall not be considered as a vote to discontinue the use of voting machines in such city borough or township

Such question as to the discontinuance of the use of voting machines shall be submitted in the following form

"Shall the use of voting machines be continued in the (city borough or township) of ....."

(h) If it shall appear at any election that the county board requires additional voting machines for the use of the electors said county board shall have authority to enter into a contract or contracts for the rental of a sufficient number of machines for said election

Section 1105 Changing the Boundaries of Election Districts

(a) The courts of quarter sessions shall upon petition divide or redivide any borough township or ward where voting machines are adopted into election districts of compact and contiguous territory or shall consolidate election districts therein into new districts each having six hundred registered voters as nearly as may be except that districts having less than six hundred registered voters may be created whenever the court shall be of opinion that the convenience of the voters and the public interests will be promoted thereby

(b) Proceedings for such division or re-division shall be conducted under the provisions of sections 502 503 504 505 and 506

Section 1106 Examination and Approval of Voting Machines by the Secretary of the Commonwealth

(a) Any person or corporation owning manufacturing or selling or being interested in the manufacture or sale of any voting machine may request the Secretary of the Commonwealth to examine the machine Any ten or more persons being qualified electors of this Commonwealth may at any time request the Secretary of the Commonwealth to re-examine any voting machine theretofore examined and approved by him Before any such examination or re-examination the person persons or corporation requesting such examination or re-examination shall pay to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth an examination fee of four hundred and fifty dollars ($450) The Secretary of the Commonwealth may at any time in his discretion re-examine any voting machine

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall thereupon require such machine to be examined or re-examined by three examiners whom he shall appoint for the purpose of whom one shall be an expert in patent-law and the other two shall be experts in mechanics and shall require of them a written report on such machine attested by their signatures and the Secretary of the Commonwealth himself shall examine the machine and shall make and file in his office together with the reports of the examiners appointed by him his own report attested by his signature and the seal of his office stating whether in his opinion and in consideration of the reports of the examiners aforesaid the kind of machine so examined can be safely used by electors at elections as provided in this act If his report states that the machine can be so used the machine shall be deemed approved and machines of its kind may be adopted for use at elections as herein provided

(c) No kind of voting machine not so approved shall be used at any election and if upon the re-examination of any voting machine previously approved it shall appear that the machine so re-examined can no longer be safely used by electors at elections as provided in this act the approval of the same shall forthwith be revoked by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and no such voting machine shall thereafter be purchased for use in this Commonwealth

(d) When a machine has been so approved no improvement or change that does not impair its accuracy efficiency or capacity shall render necessary a re-examination or re-approval of the machine or of its kind.

(e) Neither the Secretary of the Commonwealth nor any examiner appointed by him for the purpose prescribed by this section nor any member of a county election board shall have any pecuniary interest in any voting machine or in the manufacture or sale thereof

(f) Each examiner appointed hereunder shall receive a compensation of one hundred and fifty dollars ($150) for each different type of voting machine examined by him

Section 1107 Requirements of Voting Machines No voting machine shall upon any examination or re-examination be approved by the Secretary of the Commonwealth or by any examiner appointed by him unless it shall at the time satisfy the following requirements

(a) It shall provide facilities for voting such candidates as may be nominated and upon such questions as may be submitted

(b) It shall permit each voter at other than primary elections to vote a straight political party ticket in one operation and in one operation to vote for all the candidates of one political party for presidential electors and in one operation to vote for all the candidates of one political party for every office to be voted for except those offices as to which he votes for individual candidates

(c) It shall permit each voter at other than primary elections to vote a ticket selected from the nominees of any and all political parties from the nominees of any and all political bodies and from persons not in nomination

(d) It shall permit each voter to vote at any election for any person and for any office for whom and for which he is lawfully entitled to vote whether or not the name of such person appears upon a ballot-label as a candidate for nomination or election and to vote for as many persons for an office as he is entitled to vote for and to vote for or against any question upon which he is entitled to vote

(e) It shall preclude each voter from voting for any candidate or upon any question for whom or upon which he is not entitled to vote and from voting for more persons for any office than he is entitled to vote for and from voting for any candidate for the same office or upon any question more than once except in districts and for offices where cumulative voting is authorized by law

(f) It shall be capable of adjustment by election officers so as to permit each voter at a primary election to vote only for the candidates for non-partisan nomination if any and for the candidates seeking nomination by the political party in which he is registered and enrolled if he is enrolled as a member of a political party and so as to preclude him from voting for the candidates seeking nomination by any political party in which he is not enrolled

(g) It shall permit each voter to deposit write in or affix upon receptacles or devices provided for the purpose ballots containing the names of persons for whom he desires to vote whose names do not appear upon the machine

(h) It shall permit each voter to change his vote for any candidate or upon any question appearing upon the ballot labels up to the time he begins the final operation to register his vote or indicates or expresses his intention to register his vote

(i) It shall permit and require voting in absolute secrecy and shall be so constructed that no person can see or know for whom any other elector has voted or is voting save a voter whom he has assisted or is assisting in voting as prescribed by law

(j) It shall have voting devices for separate candidates and questions which shall be arranged in separate parallel rows or columns so that at any primary election one or more adjacent rows or columns may be assigned to the candidates of a party and shall have parallel office columns or rows transverse thereto

(k) It shall have a counter or other device the register of which is visible from the outside of the machine which shall show during any period of voting the total number of voters who have operated the machine during said period of voting

(l) It shall have a protective counter or other device the register of which cannot be re-set which shall record the cumulative total number of movements of the operating mechanism

(m) It shall be provided with a lock or locks by the use of which immediately after the polls are closed or the operation of the machine for an election is completed all movement of the registering mechanism is absolutely prevented

(n) It shall be provided with a screen hood or curtain which shall conceal the actions of the voter while voting

(o) It shall be constructed of material of good quality in a neat and workman-like manner.

(p) It shall when properly operated register or record correctly and accurately every vote cast

(q) It shall be so constructed that a voter may readily learn the method of operating it

(r) It shall be safely transportable

(s) It shall be so constructed and controlled that during the progress of voting it shall precude every person from seeing or knowing the number of votes registered for any candidate and from tampering with any of the registering mechanism

(t) If it is of a type equipped with mechanism for printing paper proof-sheets and not requiring the counters to be made visible in order to canvass the votes recorded on the machine the door or other device concealing such counters or keeping the same concealed may be equipped with a lock or locks requiring the simultaneous use of three separate and substantially different keys to open or operate the same

Section 1108 Payment for Machines The county commissioners or such other authority as levies the taxes for county purposes of any county which adopts voting machines or of any county in which a city borough or township is located which adopts voting machines shall upon the purchase thereof provide for payment therefor by the county Provided however That bonds or other evidences of indebtedness payable not later than ten years from their dates of issuance may be issued in accordance with the provisions of law relating to the increase of indebtedness of counties to meet all or any part of the cost of the voting machines

Section 1109 Demonstration of Voting Machines Whenever a referendum is about to be held upon the adoption of voting machines in any county city borough or township the county election board shall purchase lease or borrow a reasonable number of voting machines for demonstration purposes in such county city borough or township prior to such referendum

Section 1110 Form of Ballot-Labels on Voting Machines (a) The papers crads or strips enclosed within the ballot frame or frames of any voting machine and containing the names of a candidate or candidates or political party or the statement of a question to be voted upon hereinafter referred to as ballot-labels shall be printed in black ink upon clear white material of such size as will fit the ballot frame and in plain clear type so as to be easily readable by persons with normal vision

(b) If the construction of the machine shall require it the ballot-label for each candidate group of candidates political party or question to be voted on shall bear the designating letter or number of the counter on the voting machine which will register or record votes therefor Each question to be voted on shall appear on the ballot-labels in brief form of not more than seventy-five words to be determined by the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the case of Constitutional amendments or other questions to be voted on by the electors of the State at large and by the county election board in other cases

(c) The ballot-label for each candidate or group of candidates nominated or seeking nomination by a political party shall contain the name or designation of the political party

(d) The titles of offices may be arranged horizontally or vertically with the names of candidates for an office arranged transversely under or opposite the title of the office

(e) The names of all candidates nominated or seeking nomination by a political party shall appear in adjacent rows or columns containing generally the names of candidates nominated or seeking nomination by such party provided that the names of individual candidates for presidential electors shall not appear upon the ballot-labels but in lieu thereof the names of the candidates of said party for President and Vice-President shall be printed on a single ballot-label together with the name of said party

(f) When the same person has been nominated for the same office by more than one political party his name shall appear in the rows or columns containing generally the names of candidates nominated by each such party

(g) The form and arrangement of ballot-labels shall be prepared by the county election board and submitted by said board to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for approval If the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall approve the form and arrangement submitted the county election board shall procure such further copies of the same as may be necessary at the cost of the county If the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall disapprove the form and arrangement of ballot-labels submitted he shall indicate the changes to be made and the county election board after having made the changes indicated by the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall procure further copies of the same as may be necessary at the cost of the county

(h) The names of all candidates of a political party shall appear in the same row or column and no other names shall appear in the same row or column to the left or top of which shall be a straight party lever by means of which an elector may in one operation vote for all the candidates of that political party for every office to be voted for The names of all candidates of a political body shall appear in the same row or column and if the number of parties and bodies permits each political body shall be entitled exclusively to a separate row or column with a straight party lever If however the number of political parties and political bodies renders it impossible or impracticable to so arrange the political bodies in such case said bodies shall not be entitled to a separate row or column and a straight party lever but shall be listed by political appellations on the first left hand or top row with the designating letter and number of the ballot label where their candidates may be found together with the political appellations of other political bodies whose candidates may be interspersed on the same row or column Subject to the aforesaid limitations the form and arrangement of ballot-labels as to the placing thereon of political bodies shall be within the discretion of the county board

(i) In primary elections the ballot-labels containing the names of candidates seeking nomination by a political party shall be segregated on the face of the machine in adjacent rows or columns by parties

(j) In primary elections if it shall be impossible or impracticable to place on the ballot-labels of one machine the names of all candidates seeking nomination in all political parties the county election board may arrange for each election district the names of the candidates on separate voting machines Provided however That the names of all the candidates seeking nomination in any one political party shall appear on one machine

Section 1111 Preparation of Voting Machines by County Election Boards

An Act to amend section one thousand and thirty-eight of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating to boroughs" as amended extending the time within which appeals from auditors' reports may be taken

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1751, as follows:

An Act relating to suits and judgments on obligations accompanying mortgages heretofore or hereafter foreclosed changing the rule of evidence that the price paid at a sheriff sale for the mortgaged property is conclusive evidence of its value providing a procedure by which the actual value of such property when purchased by or for the holder of the mortgage may be determined and credited on the mortgage debt and providing a limitation of time within which such procedure may be invoked

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any case where a mortgage or holder of a mortgage or the attorney of either has purchased the mortgaged premises at a sheriff sale heretofore or hereafter held and such mortgagee or mortgage holder takes title to the mortgaged premises so purchased either directly or indirectly the price bid and paid for the mortgaged property so purchased shall not in any proceeding to collect the balance of the mortgage debt brought against the mortgagor or any person secondarily liable on or for the obligation accompanying the mortgage be deemed conclusive evidence of the value of the mortgaged property but the same shall be prima facie evidenc only of such value

Section 2 In any action or proceeding on or under the obligation accompanying said mortgage to collect the balance of the mortgage debt against the mortgagor or anyone secondarily liable therefor said mortgagor or person secondarily liable shall have the right to allege and show as a matter of defense and set-off that the property purchased at the sheriff sale was fairly worth the amount of the debt secured by it at the time and place of the sale or that the amount bid and paid therefor was substantially less than its true value The burden of so proving shall be upon the mortgagor or party secondarily liable and upon such proof said mortgagor or person secondarily liable shall be entitled to have the judgment satisfied or credit entered thereon against the debt to the full value of the mortgaged property so established Provided That where judgment has been entered by confession on the bond or obligation accompanying said mortgage the defendant in said judgment shall have a right to petition the court in which the judgment is entered to open judgment and be allowed to establish the actual value of the property and to have credit for such value as aforesaid duly credited against the amount of the judgment

Section 3 Either the mortgagee mortgage holder mortgagor or any person secondarily liable on the obligation accompanying the mortgage may at any time within five years from the date of the sheriff sale make application to the court in which a judgment on the obligation accompanying the mortgage has been entered by confession or if not entered in any court having jurisdiction over the person of the mortgagee or mortgage holder and to have said court find and decree the value of the property purchased by said mortgagee or mortgage holder at the sheriff sale as of the time and place of said sale and to deduct said value from any judgment that may have been entered by confession or enter on the bond such values so established as a credit or payment on account thereof Provided however That the burden of proof of establishing said value shall be upon the mortgagor or the person secondarily liable And provided also That the issue of the value of the property sought to be established under this act shall be determined by a jury And provided further That in any case in which the right to apply for relief herein granted shall be sooner barred the application to the court may be made within two years from the effective date of this act

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1105, as follows:

An Act to amend section one as amended and section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws 645) entitled "An act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or fictitious name style or designation unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary and providing penalties" providing for the filing of certificates showing changes of address

Section 410 Uniform Policy Provisions No policy of life or endowment insurance except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener shall hereafter be issued or delivered by any stock or mutual life insurance company in this Commonwealth unless it contains in substance the following provisions

(a) A provision that all premiums shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by one or more of the officers of the company who shall be named in the policy

(b) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace either of thirty days or one month within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made subject at the option of the company to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before the payment of the premium during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year if any are paid the amount of such premiums with interest on any overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premiums and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of the company and that at the option of the company provisions relative to benefits in the event of total and permanent disability and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident may also be excepted

(d) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(e) A provision that if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age

(f) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the third policy-year the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the owner of the policy shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash or applied to the payment of premium or the purchase of paid up additions to the policy as the policyholder may elect

In lieu of the foregoing provisions the policy may contain a provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the fifth policy-year the company will determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the owner of the policy shall have the right to have the current dividend arising from such participation paid in cash and that at periods of not more than five years thereafter such apportionment and payment at the option of the policy-holder shall be had

Renewable term policies of ten years or less may provide that the surplus accruing to such policies shall be determined and apportioned each year after the second policy-year and accumulated during each renewal period and that at the end of any renewal period or renewal of the policy by the insured the company shall apply the accumulated surplus as an annuity for the next succeeding renewal term in the reduction of premiums

(g) A provision specifying the options to which the policyholder is entitled in the event of default in a premium payment after three full annual premiums shall have been paid

(h) A provision that after three full years' premiums have been paid the company at any time while the policy is in force will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto and that the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy-year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy-year which provision may further provide that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made A company may in lieu of the provision hereinabove permitted for the deduction from a loan on the policy of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that one-fifth of the entire reserve may be deducted in case of a loan under the policy or may provide therein that the deduction may be the said two and one-half per centum or the one-fifth of the said entire reserve at the option of the company

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2126, (Senate Bill No. 65), as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the seventh day fo April one thousand eight hundred seventy (Pamphlet Laws fifty-seven) entitled "An act to enlarge the jurisdiction of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Dauphin in cases wherein the Commonwealth may be plaintiff and to provide for the issuing of writs of foreign attachment in such cases" by extending the provisions of the said section to the judges of the Orphans' Court of Dauphin County

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the seventh day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy (Pamphlet Laws fifty-seven) entitled "An act to enlarge the jurisdiction of the Court of Common Pleas for the county of Dauphin in cases wherein the Commonwealth may be plaintiff and to provide for the issuing of writs of foreign attachment in such cases" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Dauphin and the judges of the Orphans' Court of Dauphin County [is] are hereby clothed with jurisdiction throughout the State for the purpose of hearing and determining all suits claims and demands whatever at law in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of said county in which the [commonwealth] Commonwealth may be the party plaintiff for accounts unpaid balances unpaid liens taxes penalties and all other causes of action real personal and mixed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 15 by inserting after the word "law" and before the word "in" the word: "and"

Amend page 2 by adding after line 19 the following new section: "Section 2. This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not there is a bill establishing an Orphans Court of Dauphin County which has been passed by both the Senate and the House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill establishing the Orphans Court of Dauphin County has passed both the House and the Senate. Certain amendments were introduced into the bill and the bill is now on the table. It will be called off the table immediately after the insertion of these amendments, and similar amendments will be inserted in that bill. These amendments make the establishment of the Orphans Court effective immediately upon the final enactment and approval of the bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not think that the amendments which are now suggested to this bill and which will be suggested to the other bill are of very great importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to Dauphin County. I was wondering, as well as a number of my other Republican colleagues, how long it would be until the Democrats would wake up to the fact that it does not have the provision in it to make the bill become effective immediately, as I realize that had the Democrats discovered that, it would be of particular advantage to that party to have that provision in the bill. I am interested in finding that they have now discovered that fact.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to a resolution adopted by this House a few days ago, the Chair appoints as a Committee to arrange the baseball game between the married men and the single men Messrs. Preston and Bohn.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to call to the attention of the members the fact that tomorrow we will have a very heavy calendar. There will be more than fifty bills on the third reading calendar and it is very important that the members attend the session tomorrow if they wish to avoid a session on Thursday. The Chair is not making any promise that there will not be a Thursday session but does request all members to be present at tomorrow's session in order to clean up the calendar. The chances of not having a Thursday session will be much better if that is done.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE CLERK

There will be the following public hearings tomorrow:

At 11:00 a. m. on House Bill No. 1690 in the House Caucus Room before the Committee on Mines and Mining.

At 11:00 a. m. in Room 101 on House Bills No. 452, 1704, 1869, 1899, 1901, 1952, 2014 and 2062, before the Committee on State Boards.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 12:00 o'clock noon.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:50 p. m.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, May 12, 1937, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1937. No. 57.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 12, 1937.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Unto Thee we lift our eyes in grateful praise, O Thou that dwellest in the Heavens! In the beauty of the stars of God, in the glory of his sunlight, Thou dost speak to us.

We thank Thee for Moses, the meekest, for Jesus, gentlest; yet, if we have ears to hear and eyes to see—

"Every bird that sings,
And every flower that studs the plastic sod,
Every breath that fragrant summer brings,
To the pure spirit, is a Word of God."

Yet it well may be that
The gladdest of earth be the bodily blind:
While the saddest of all is the sightless mind.

Our Father, as we meet today, and from day to day, give us understanding hearts that we may bring to Thee our best. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RANKIN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following comunications:

OPPOSING ANY BILL WHICH WOULD ABOLISH SYSTEM OF POOR RELIEF BY ELECTED POOR DIRECTORS

Petitions received from thousands of citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania opposing any bill which would tend to abolish the present system of general poor relief by elected Poor Directors, or to limit their power and duties under existing law.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a Resolution, but before doing so I want to rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, I think you will all agree with me that the two outstanding propositions before not only the National Government, but also in so far as our local Government is concerned, our questions of balancing the budget and unemployment. Unemployment must not be confused with the relief; relief is a side issue of unemployment. If we can solve the question of relief will solve itself.

We have heard much from the National Government as to the balancing of its budget, and those of us who have made any study of the proposition know that the President of these United States in the present condition of affairs cannot and will not be able to balance the National Budget. We further know that the Governor of this Commonwealth in the present condition of affairs cannot balance this budget or his budget. No budget can be balanced until the question of unemployment is solved. No budget can be balanced on a debit and a credit column. The question of finance will never solve the National or Local Relief questions. In the balancing of that budget there must be three columns, an income column, an expense column and a column that deals with humanity, and until such time as we can balance these three columns, there can be no balancing of the budget, nor can there be any real Government in Pennsylvania, or in the United States.

Many efforts have been made to try to solve the relief problem, and that to my mind is not the big problem, because it will solve itself, and all we have heard from time to time is the question of relief, and with whom are we going to find fault?

We are either going to find fault with everybody and with every form of institution, or find fault with no one, so that it is a national condition that cannot be overcome, in my mind, due to the inability and unwillingness of those in public life to take hold of this question. I again contend that when it is a question of relief, that we have been playing politics, that human misery has increased, and that relief has been made a political issue throughout the State, and the time is now here, I believe that if anyone in public office plays politics at the expense of human beings, it is time that there should ben an uprising in this Government, and unless these conditions change there can be nothing else but an uprising. I think that is the question, and it will be a sorrowful condition of affairs, I believe, and I am picking out no particular political party. Now, I do not want to make a charge against the Democratic Party; I do not want to make a charge against the Republican Party; both parties have either been careless, negligent, or badly advised. I am not here to save the hides of industries, I am not here to save the hides of Union Labor, nor the hides of anyone, and I think all the factors that pend to make up this Government are either at fault or no one is at fault, and for that purpose and with that in mind, I am about to offer a resolution whereby all these factors can get together around a round table so that this question of unemployment can be solved, and until they all work together harmonisly with an effort to do the right thing, without regards to politics without regards to whom it may hit, we cannot come to a common understanding. I hope the reign or reason still predominates, at least in this Commonwealth, in order that we set an example for these United States, and the National Government. Some one, somewhere, or somehow must take this question in hand and solve the problem, or else the day of reckoning must come and come promptly.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO FORMULATE A PLAN TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

Mr. SALUS. offered the following resolution which was twice read considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 12, 1937.

Whereas, The two most important legislative questions before the Pennsylvania Legislature are making adequate provisions for unemployment relief and at the same time balancing the budget, and

Whereas, Commissions have been appointed to study and work out better systems for the distribution, but these commissions have left to others the ways and means of balancing public budgets, and

Whereas, In any system of modern government this important question must be taken into consideration viz: How can humanitarian needs be provided for and at the same time income and expenditures kept in balance, an

Whereas, The solution to the balancing of the budget lies in employing every available effort to provide employment thus relieving human misery and lessening the public burden, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a commission is hereby constituted which shall consist of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the mayors of the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton ex-officio. The President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint to said commission three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House. The Governor shall appoint to the commission five members representing the press, three persons representing the banking interests, seven members representing the mining, industrial and manufacturing interests, five members representing labor unions, five members representing the Workers' Alliance, five members representing the farming interests and five social service workers.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of said commission to formulate the most feasible and practical plan it can devise whereby, with the co-operation of the state and local governments, employers of labor, union labor, the farming interest and others, employment may be found for residents of the State through a clearing house system established by it, and whereby the state and local governments can, to the extent of their resources, under balanced budgets, aid by subsidies, if necessary, private employers in providing employment.

Resolved, If the commision is able to formulate a plan deemed satisfactory and if it be found that legislation is required to accomplish its objects, the Governor be required to call an extra-ordinary session of the General Assembly to enact the same.

Resolved, That an item of appropriation be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to cover the expenses of the commission.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Welfare.

MOTION TO PRINT RESOLUTION

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask that this resolution be printed for the information of the members of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the resolution will be printed.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Indiana will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I understand that last Monday a conference was held in the Executive's office, in which the Governor and the Secretary of the Commonwealth expressed their great opposition to the smothering or pickling bills in committee. The resolution which I am going to offer refers to a bill that has been in committee since February 16th. It is not a matter of politics, it is a matter of principle and conscience, and I hope that the members of this Senate will look at it in that light when they vote. It is a matter of whether you regard your word given publicly as sacredly as your word given privately. I say in all sincerity that there is not one gentleman in this Senate whose private word I would not take as well as I would take his bond. I hope I can still feel that public promises are as sacred as private promises, and also the matter to consider whether you want your constituency to have the same consideration that this constituency is asking.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO BILLS NOW IN COMMITTEE

Mr. WOLFENDEN offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, May 12, 1937.

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 290 (House Bill No. 332) Printer's No. 90, permitting a referendum by the citizens of Pittsburgh on the city manager plan of government with proportional representation for the election of council was introduced in the House of Representatives by Assemblyman O'Keefe of Allegheny County, January 26, 1937 and passed said House unanimously on February 17, 1937, and

Whereas, Honorable David Lawrence, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee who is also head of the Democratic Organization of Allegheny County, as well as all Allegheny County Democratic members of the House and Senate, prior to election pledged themselves to support this legislation, and

and,

Whereas, The said Senate Committee on City Government during the twelve weeks since the said Bill was referred to it, February 17, 1937, has taken no action on Senate Bill No. 290 (House Bill No. 332) which Bill affects the form of government in the City of Pittsburgh, in spite of frequent urgings in editorial comments in Pittsburgh newspaper and by civic organizations, that action be taken, and,

Whereas, A tentative date for adjournment of this Legislature has been set as May 21, 1937, before which date but two weeks remain, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania request the Committee on City Government to report to the Senate, within one week, Senate Bill No. 290 (House Bill No. 332) Printer's No. 90, so that action may be taken thereon.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move that the Rules of the Senate be suspended for the purpose of immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, have any complaint as to the official conduct of the present Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and the present Council of the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, my resolution states nothing about the conduct of the City Council and the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Indiana understand the bill mentioned in his resolution?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I have read the bill.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana explain to the Senate what is meant by proportinal representation?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would rather not commit myself.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I take it from that, then, that the Senator from Indiana does not understand the meaning of proportional representation sufficiently well to explain it to this Senate.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr President, I am not entering into the merits of the bill.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, does the Senator not want the committee having this bill under consideration to go into the merits of the bill?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I call to the Senator's attention that I am not asking for the discharge of the committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have been Chairman of this Committee and I have been discharged before, so that does not make me feel badly if I am discharged again, but I am curious to know, and for that purpose I seconded the motion, that the rule be waived so that this resolution can be considered. What is the motive for the resolution? This resolution provides, not that the committee be discharged, but practically that the Senate ordered the committee to report the bill to the floor of the Senate. I agree thoroughly with the Senator from Indiana that bills of importance, in which communities and citizens are interested, and which are controversial, should not be pickled in committee. I suggest to the Senator from Indiana that since he does not know the contents of the bill, that he read it, and he will find that this bill changes completely the governmental structure of the city of Pittsburgh. It Provides for proportional representation, it provides for city management. I have had this bill in committee for a number of weeks, and the reason that it has not been reported is obvious. The committee has been performing that which I believe to be the function of the committee, it has held the bill, it has been discussed in committee. We had a meeting last week and there was nobody interested enough to demand that the bill come out. I had two telegrams in connection with the bill, one from a lady who seems to be very much interested in city management, another from a gentleman who claimed he represented a number of organizations in Pittsburgh who are interested in city management.

This is an important bill, I imagine, to representatives from Pittsburgh. There has not been a single representative from the city of Pittsburgh in this Chamber, nor in the House, who has asked this committee to bring out the bill, and I do not see why the Senate should instruct a committee to bring out a bill concerning a community when the representatives of the community are not interested in the bill. I seconded the motion for the purpose of being able to have this discussion, otherwise the discussion could not have been had. I wanted an opportunity to explain the position I am taking. This is a motion to suspend the rules requiring unanimous consent for immediate consideration. I have no objection to this resolution should be considered and voted down because the committee is performing a proper function. The committee is not pickling the bill. There is nobody except a ccuple of people who have an interest in city management, who are asking for this bill to come out. The city of Pittsburgh and its citizens are not up in arms about this matter, it is not being agitated here in this Senate, and nobody has raised a question about the bill, except the Senator who has presented this resolution. Under those circumstances, I think we ought to discuss this matter, and if the resolution were before us, I would vote against it. I do not think that the resolution ought to be sent to committee. This is the time to argue it. The Senators from Pittsburgh know all about this, more than I do, and ought to be willing to stand on the floor and discuss it.

The PRESIDENT. Let the Chair suggest that if you want to discuss the resolution that you really dispose of this motion. This is no time to discuss the resolution, no debate is in order except the motion to suspend the rule.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I shall try to avoid the main subject on the bill; however, I do not think it is possible to discuss this motion to suspend without discussing somewhat the bill.

I want to say this, that I am not pledged to this bill and I am unalterably opposed to any bill that provides for proportional representation. Our system of government in America is a system of government by a majority, not by organized minority who can get together and put over one or two members of the council in a city. During the time that they were fighting in Cleveland over the question of proportional representation and getting rid of their charter which gave it to them, I was carefully reading the Cleveland papers, Cleveland only being about 75 miles from my home, and I want to say that I was unable to find anybody who spoke in the papers, or anybody who spoke anywhere, whose speech was repeated in the papers, whom seemed to know anything or understand the principle of proprotional representation. It seems to exist in some parts of Europe where they have these corporative governments, but it certainly is entirely aside and away from our principles of democratic and liberal and free government of the people by the people and for the people in America, and personally I will vote against this resolution.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I think if the members of the Senate realized the implication contained in a resolution of this kind, that they would take the attitude of the Senator from Mercer with respect to any measure that provides for proportional representation. As far as I know at the present time, we only have one major political group where the system of voting by proportional representation is in effect today, and that is, in the so-called Republic of Spain. Spain in 1931 adopted this system of proportional representation. The Spanish government has been subjected to a series of continuous revolts ever since the adoption of proportional representation. They have had a series of one revolution after another, and the eyes of the world are fixed upon Spain as the greatest outstanding tragedy in the world today, and I say to you, Mr. President, that the direct factor contributing more than any other one thing to the condition existing in the Spanish government today is the policy of proportional representation, because since the adoption of the system of proportional representation in Spain, no one single political party has been able to attain a majority in the legislative halls of the Spanish government, and I say to you, Mr. President, and to this Senate, that any system of the selection of public officers on a system of proportional representation will lead to a tragedy in democratic government, such as we have existing in the Spanish government today, and it behooves everyone of us who are proud of the system of democratic government in this country to oppose anthing that savors of proportional representation, and I say to you that we should dispose of this immediately, and that we should vote down and unalterably put the stamp of disapproval upon anything that threatens to bring to this country this Spanish system of proportional representation.

The PRESIDENT. Let the Chair say something! Any resolution that gives Rise to debate is one that the Chair is obliged to send it to committee. The motion is to suspend that rule, so that the Chair assumes you may have debate. The Chair is going to rule that you must confine yourself to the motion before the Senate.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, in view of that ruling, if I am violating it, stop me. I just want to make clear one thing in defense of myself. The Senator from Philadelphia evidently accused me of not reading the bill The bill does not make mandatory porportional representation, it simply gives the people of Pittsburgh their inherent right to vote on the question whether or not they want to change their form of government. It is not mandatory.

Mr. President, inasmuch as the Chairman of the Committee has publicly stated here that it is not his intention to pickle this bill, and he has also stated that he has had no requests from any member from Allegheny County to bring it out, and he has intimated that they propose to bring it out, and numerous Senators on the other side have indicated their attitudes, I am taking him at his word that he is not pickling the bill, and I assume that time will tell whether or not that is a political promise—in view of that my motion to suspend the rules so that immediate consideration may be given to the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfender, withdraws his motion to suspend Rule 39, to provide for immediate consideration. Does the seconder withdraw his second?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is withdrawn. In the absence of any further action, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section [21] 19 Constitutional Construction If any section sentence clause or part of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional sentence section clause or part thereof not been included herein

Section [22] 20 [Effect on Other Acts of Assembly Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to repeal or modify the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" and its amendments or supplements The taxes imposed by this act shall be in addition to all other taxes which are now or hereafter imposed by law] Repealer and Saving Clause (a) All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed but the provisions of this act so far as they are the same as those of existing laws shall be construed as a continuation of such laws and not as new enactments

(b) Sections seventeen and eighteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" and their amendments are hereby repealed

(c) Nothing herein contained shall be construed as reviving any act repealed by the act which this act repeals and the passage of this act shall not be taken or construed to relieve any person association or corporation from the payment of any taxes penalties and interest imposed by section seventeen of the said act on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six or for any fiscal year beginning in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and prior years or from any taxes penalties and interest imposed by the provisions of any act or parts of acts in force at the time this act becomes effective or to affect or terminate any petitions investigations prosecutions legal or otherwise or other proceedings pending under the provisions of any act or parts of acts in force at the time this act becomes effective or repealed by this act or to prevent the commencement or further prosecution of any legal proceedings by the proper authorities of the Commonwealth for violations of such acts or for the collection or recovery of taxes penalties and interest due or owing to the Commonwealth under such acts

Section [23] 21 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and [shall remain] be in force for the assessment and collection of taxes under section three of this act for the calendar [years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six at the rate of one mill on each dollar of the value thereof and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven at the rate of four mills on each dollar of the value thereof] years one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight and one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and for the collection of taxes under section [eighteen] seventeen of this act [during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six at the rate of one mill on each dollar of the nominal value thereof and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven at the rate of four mills on each dollar of the nominal value thereof on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six] for the calendar [year one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight on reports filed] year one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight and every year thereafter on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (or for any fiscal year beginning in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven) and for every year thereafter

and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is the eight-mill Personal Property tax which was attacked the other evening by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, because an amendment had been placed in the title of the bill in the House, and since that time a good deal of attention has been given to it to find out the sentiment, and I cannot see why there is an objection to the amendment placed in it by the House. It simply strikes out an unnecessary amendment which we inserted here in the Senate.

This is a re-enactment of the Act of 1936 and it does not require any amendment to be placed in the title. (I want to quote what Mr. Fertig has said about that:) "The amendments of 1937 to the Personal Property tax act of 1936 do not tax equitable interests, and, therefore, notice of such a tax would be erroneous. Equitable interests were taxed in 1936 and their levy dates after its re-enactment," and that is the bill we are re-enacting, and I ask the Senate to vote "aye" on this concurrence.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have seen the letter referred to by the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, and I want to call the Senator's attention to that phase of the situation that is covered by that letter. This Act is an amendment to the Act of 1935, and he quotes the title as it existed in the act when it was passed in 1935, but he does not quote the amended title as it was amended in 1936; this indicated the amendment to the Act of 1935. Now, I agree that there may be a close question as to whether you have to cite the amended title. When citing the amended act there certainly can be no harm in so stating, because when we changed the act in 1936, we amended it to read "a tax imposing a state tax on the value of certain equitable interests." In other words, when we passed the amendment in 1936 to the act of 1935, we so amended it to give notice in the title that we were imposing a tax on the value of certain equitable interests, and as we are passing this amendment now to the act of 1935 we are not giving that notice, and I ask the members of the Senate to non-concur in the amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is it out of order to speak on the merits of the bill?

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, may speak on the amendments and on the bill itself.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I never like to neglect an opportunity to talk on this tax. This is the eight-mill personal property tax, and I always want to register myself against this tax, because it is a tax on principal and not on interest, and I follow the views of my predecessor, Cato, the Roman Senator, when he said, on all occasions, "Carthage must be destroyed," and in a short address I want to say that this tax on personal property must be destroyed sooner or later.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur on the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Cavalcante,	Henney,	Law,	Rupp,

Section 12 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. President, for the purpose of the record, before voting on this bill, I want to state the reason for my vote. It is my personal contention that this is not a good pass. I believe the tax will be paid by the consuming public, by that group of people who are less able to pay it, and I, and I continue to believe it today, despite the Governors' speech on the radio. I intended to vote against this bill, but since the Governor made that speech there has been flood of communications containing the personal views of people in my district favoring this bill, and I feel that the people in my districts favor the Chain Store Tax, and I believe it the duty of every Legislator to represent the people of his district, and with that idea in mind, when this bill comes up for vote, I am going to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator, from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if it is not a fact that he expressed the opinion yesterday that this act, as drawn prior to the amendments, taxes places of business selling tickets?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have not expressed that opinion. I said that a construction might be placed on it that if taxes places of business within this act.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, from the discussion yesterday, I think we all understand that the bill is designed to penalize certain business, and not the purpose of imposing the penalty as to include bus and railroad stations that sell tickets, that is, we all appreciate the fact that a bus station and a railroad station could not be expected to pay a chain store tax and that they would have to sell tickets in one place only to avoid this tax.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. President, I therefore move that the vote by which this bill passed Third Reading be reconsidered for the purpose of offering an amendment including railroad stations, railroad cars and bus offices.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I trust the Senator will vote down this motion. This bill has been thoroughly considered, and if you will permit this bill to be amended as suggested here, all classes of people will come here to further amend the bill. I am just as much interested in protecting railroad and other interests in Pennsylvania as any reasonable man can be, but I do not believe that this amendment in the bill affects railroad stations, railroad ticket offices, or bus stations, or any other offices that sell tickets. The very fact that we amended the bill as we did the other day, is in favor of our position; it outlines certain classes of ticket sellers, if you please, to distinguish them from other ticket sellers, and this is in favor of the bill, and I trust you will vote down this motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, if I am mistaken in his statement, that if he does not agree with the able Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Chapiro, in the interruption of the Act.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I am not concerned about the interruption the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, may have, and I might say that I do not believe in any of the arguments that have been made by the Senator from Tioga, on this bill, and I also say that the bill should be further amended.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman if it is his understanding that this bill does not tax places selling tickets.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think it will tax theatre offices.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I suggest to the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, that it taxes theatre offices selling tickets because that was specifically put in the bill, but I am asking if it taxes other ticket offices.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not think so.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, then, may I ask why the Senator objects to amending this act to make it clear that it does not tax all ticket offices and if it is his interpretation that it does not intend to tax them.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, for the obvious reason that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is not for the bill amended or unamended, and, therefore, I believe it is entirely intended to complicate the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I, in reply to the Senator from Monroe, state that in view of the discussion on this floor yesterday, and in the House recently, and vociferously maintained by a number of Senators, that this bill will tax theatres without bringing it in the terms of this Act merely because they sell tickets, and the Act provides that a place of business is anything that sells personal property, and a ticket has been held to be personal property, it was seriously contended by the Democratic Members of this Senate yesterday that theatres were clearly within the Act. Then we put that in to be sure. Now, we come here with this amendment to make it clear that it does not tax the other kind of ticket offices, which they all say are excluded, and they are objecting to this amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman in his statement covered a question relating to bus ticket offices, but he did not cover the question of railroad dining cars. I would like to ask the Senator if it is his interpretation that this bill will impose a tax on the dining cars of railroad companies?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, well, I am not here to answer for the Supreme Court. A great may questions can be raised against this bill, but I think a reasonable interpretation would be that the court would say that the items enacted into the bill would be taxed and no others.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator to say in reply to my interrogation that dining cars are included or not included in the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not think they are included.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator why he would object to a clarifying amendment in order that there may be no question on the subject.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think I answered that question in trying to reply to the Senator from Tioga. We think this bill is in good condition to take care of the stores and businesses enacted in the bill and it does not include other businesses, and we do not want to complicate it by further amendment

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator if we are going to have the House concur in these amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, that would be largely up to the House, I take it.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga state whether or not the purpose of this amendment is to put the bill in such shape so that he can vote for it?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, I wish to state that I understand this bill is going through, but it is not going through with my vote no matter what amendments are going to put in, but I appreciate the fact that it is going through because the Governor has ordered it to go through, it is on the 'must' list, and, of course, it will go through, but that does not prevent us from putting it in as good shape as possible.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in view of the remarks of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, that he will vote against the bill any way, I cannot see why he is so much concerned in these amendments.

Mr OWLETT. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, whether the Governor's orders included the taxing of theatres as well as food stores, so that it will go through the House. I am interested in knowing whether making theater tickets taxable, as well as food stores will go through the House.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, I would say that I have received no orders in connection with this bill except the expression of the opinion of my constituents. I am not interested in knowing, Mr. President, whether the amendments made yesterday making theatres taxable will go through the House.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to get a few words in here. I am inclined to feel, from some of the remarks made here, that a sensible person will arrive at the conclusion that only an ass would make some of the statements that have already been made. If any of us are taking advice from the Governor of this State in respect to certain important measures, I am proud to say that we are dealing with an honorable and decent man who received the approval of this Commonwealth to be their chief executive. As to whether railroad companies are included, the Members who have spoken so far on this bill have overlooked the distinction that exists between the Public Utility Commission and any other kind of a corporation. The Chain theatres included in this bill are not public utilities, where the dining cars, of railroads, and their station where they sell tickets are part of their public utility system, and most of them are governed by interstate laws, and the body of law that applies to them, applies to them specifically, and this bill under no possible construction can be made to include a dining car that is probably put on a train in the City of New York and then taken off at Altoona, or Harrisburg, or some place else.

This is a very good bill. We are about to correct an evil that has existed for a long time We are about to come to the rescue of a portion of our citizenship that has suffered considerably in this last depression, and I refer to the independent merchants of our State, the man and women who owns his or her own little property in which they have stores, and own homes and real estate in this Commonwealth. During the depression these local business men and women who know their neighbors and their families and who did not let them starve because their neighbors did not have any money, but the local business extended thousands and thousands of dollars of credit to his neighbor in order that he might live and that his family might continue, while the Chain Store stood at the corner, and the only way they dealt was when you went there and laid down cash. They extended no credit to the suffering and needy of our State and Nation, and I think that now the time has arrived when we are about to pay a slight debt to the citizens of our State who helped us to maintain our fellow citizens in time of great need, and we should not hear, by amendments that mean nothing, and by frivolous arguments try to embarrass this bill and try to impede its progress any longer through this Assembly.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I did not intend to speak on this bill until the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, came to the defense of the independent merchant. I would like to serve the independent merchant just as much as he would and as long as he wants to be served, and it so happens that only yesterday at the City of York there was a resolution passed by the Pennsylvania Retail Grocer's Association, and I was furnished with a copy of this resolution which is as follows:

"Whereas, House Bill No 228, known as the Store Tax Bill, will if it becomes a law, endanger the continued existence of cooperative wholesale food distributors owned and operated by retail grocers.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Pennsylvania Retail Grocers' Association, in 41st Annual Convention, assembled at Yorktowne Hotel, York, Pennsylvania, May 10 and 11, 1937, said Pennsylvania Retail Grocers' Association representing approximately 9,000 individual retail grocers in the State of Pennsylvania, does hereby emphatically protest against the passage of this bill as being a calamity to both the grocers and consumers in our State."

"CHARLES H. VON TAGEN,
SECRETARY, PENNSYLVANIA RETAIL
GROCERS' ASSOCIATION."

Mr. President, that is the attitude of the retail grocers in regard to this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask whether we are discussing the bill or the amendments offered by the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator may discuss the entire bill or any of the amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have only a few words to say. This bill and the preceding bill emphasizes the necessity of a personal income tax in this State for obvious reasons. I am opposed to this bill for another reason; it raises the cost of living. This is a punitive measure and if you will look at the State taxes of Pennsylvania, I think you will find very few taxes that are enacted in the spirit of punishment of a certain class of people. I have been brought up on the phrase "the power to tax is the power to destroy".' I think this bill is bad in principle.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have a serious apprehension as to what effect this bill will have on the food prices to the consuming public. This bill, like every other bill in the Senate, should always be given serious consideration. Originally the bill provided that the funds derived therefrom should go to increasing the salaries of school teachers in fourth-class school districts. I am constrained to give my vote to the measure for the reason that while that provision of the bill is stricken out, there is a bill in the House which will provide for the increase in the salaries of those school teachers and the only way this ever will be made at this legislature to make the bill effective will be the enactment of this measure. There is this that occurs to me, that this bill is in a sense a punitive measure, and I believe that the individual merchant would be better served or better helped if a bill defining what is an unfair practice were enacted, I am interested in the individual merchant, and if this bill will help him, and which I seriously doubt that it will, I intend to vote for it.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Bucks Mr. Buckman, inform us who furnished him a copy of the resolution passed yesterday by the organization that met in York?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am sorry that I cannot give the name to the Senator; there was some man here yesterday afternoon who had probably taken an aeroplane from York, in order to get here before we passed this bill, and he handed me a copy of this resolution, and he said he was sent up here yesterday afternoon in order to get it to us before the bill was passed. I do not know the name of the gentlemen.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Bucks kindly state whether or not it is a fact that this resolution was furnished by Mr. Francis Biddle, attorney for the chain stores?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, Mr. Biddle gave me a copy but it was not the first copy I received. Mr. Biddle gave be a copy, but I also had one yesterday afternoon and incidentally, I understand that it is also a fact that Mr. Biddle is one of the leading Democrats in the State.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, kindly state whether or not this organization who passed this resolution is just another form of chain organization, and not strictly the real independent grocers of the State?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am afraid I do not have sufficient knowledge to fully answer the Senator from Centre, but I take it that they are a real organization, the Pennsylvania Retail Grocers' Association. I know they have been around these halls for a good many years. I recall that in years gone by they were very strongly organized in support of a bill allowing garnisheeing wages for the payment of store bills. They seemed to be organized at that time and I have no doubt that they are organized just as well today.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not want to embarrase my colleague, Senator Pytko, but I wish to say that when a man arrived in haste from York yesterday I tried to grab Senator Pytko and he said "I met the gentleman". And if the Senator from Centre does not know it, he can refresh the Senator from Centre as to whether he was a genuine article or not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in view of the accusations made here several nights ago that I received lobbyists of the chain stores, I resent anybody cutting in on me.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parlimentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, are we voting on the bill or are we voting on the motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed third reading?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is to reconsider the vote by which it passed third reading.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. BUCKMAN and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 715 (House Bill No. 1032), on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred ninety-two of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy-eight) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as added providing for county airports go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMPSON, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 387, entitled:

A Further Supplement to the act, approved the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred thirteen) entitled "An act to accept the grant of Public Lands, by the United States, to the several states for the endowment of Agricultural College"; and making appropriations for carrying the same into effect.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege, and I trust that my colleagues will harken to me for just a few moments, as my question of personal privilege is in the nature of an announcement.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am authorized by the victim of a joyous occasion to report out, as committed, a solemn promise once primarily made as the aftermath of a jubilation that exuded from the paradox that followed when in the last General Session a bill introduced by a Democratic member lived to see the light of day.

This promise as about to be reported out by me will be doubly appreciated by my colleagues both Republicans and Democrats, because it is in the nature of boodle for affection shown to a member of this body who after capitulating to the mysteries of matrimony developed an acute tenderness for that unit of the animal kingdom commonly known as the bison or buffalo that roam the verdant pastures of Trexler Park in the bailiwick of the aforementioned victim, the gentleman from Lehigh County, a certain Mr. Rupp.

For the protection given by this Senate to the bovine friends of the gentleman from Lehigh County as above mentioned, lid undertake to provide for each member of this Senate a slice of one of said bisons or buffaloes taken from the 'primest' and 'juiciest' edible portions of one of said buffaloes.

I am therefore highly enthusiastic to report to the members of this Senate with a favorable recommendation that the said Mr. Rupp will purge himself of the promise now long before due to the members of this Senate and to that end his kindness has directed me to inform you, the members of this Senate, both species, Republican and Democratic, that the aforementioned Gentleman Rupp will acquit himself of said obligation, and therefore peremptorily commands that every member of this Senate who answers to the name of Senator will be presented with his aforementioned slice of buffalo under the sheltered premises of the Penn-Harris Hotel in the City of Harrisburg not founded by the ancient Swedish inhabitants of this community and that the said event will be held on Tuesday, May 18, 1937, at 6:30 P. M. E. S. T.

Each slice of buffalo will be accompanied by all easements, hereditaments and embellishments that are generally bargained, sold, enfeoffed and conveyed by culinary art with like slices of buffalo aforementioned. The summons will issue later under the hand and seal belonging to the aforementioned Gentleman Rupp.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Bean,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 87, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto section twenty.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply wish to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this is a joint resolution amending Article Nine of the Constitution. It would forbid the transfer of motor vehicle funds for any other purpose except for the use of the Highway Department. I am opposed to this because it creates a special fund and it certainly prevents us from using our own intelligence and judgment, as we have found out in the past when drawing on the Highway Fund, and as I understand this amendment, this would clamp down on that.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 7 That sections twelve and thirteen of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 389) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Disability Retirement

Section 12 Retirement upon disability shall be made and discontinued as follows

(1) Upon the application of a contributor or of one acting in his or her behalf or upon the application of the head of his department the retirement board shall retire said contributor on a disability allowance if he or she is under the superannuation retirement age and on a superannuation allowance if he or she has attained or passed such age Provided The physician or physicians designated by the retirement board after a medical examination of said contributor made at the place of residence of such contributor or at a place mutually agreed upon shall certify to the retirement board that said contributor is physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty and that said contributor ought to be retired And provided further That said contributor has had five or more years of service as a [State employe] member

(2) Once each year the retirement board may require any disability annuitant while still under the superannuation retirement age to undergo medical examination by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board said examination to be made at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon Should such physician or physicians thereupon report and certify to the retirement board that such disability beneficiary is no longer physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty or that such disability beneficiary is able to engage in a gainful occupation and should the retirement board concur in such report then the amount of the State annuity shall be discontinued or reduced to an amount that shall not be in excess of the amount by which the amount of last year's salary of the beneficiary as a State employe exceeds his present earning capacity

(3) Should any disability annuitant while under the superannuation retirement age refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any year by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board his or her State annuity shall be discontinued until the withdrawal of such refusal and should such refusal continue for one year all his or her rights in and to the State annuity constituted by this act shall be forfeited

(4) Upon the application of any beneficiary under the superannuation retirement age drawing a disability retirement allowance under the provisions of this act said beneficiary may be restored to active service by the head of the department in which he or she served at the time of his or her retirement Upon the restoration of a beneficiary to active service his or her retirement allowance shall cease and he or she shall resume membership in the retirement association

(5) On the retirement for disability a contributor shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of

(a) A member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and

(b) A State annuity which together with the member's annuity shall be sufficient to produce a retirement allowance of one ninetieth (1/90) of his or her final salary multiplied by the number of his or her years of service but in any case not less than thirty per centum shall exceed eight-ninths of the rate of retirement allowance to which the member might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until the superannuation retirement age when the State annuity granted shall be such as to make the rate of the total retirement allowance equal to eight-ninths of the rate of allowance to which the member might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until the superannuation retirement age

Where a member deferred taking membership and has not completed his back payments at the time of disability retirement then the State annuity shall be the amount to which the member would have been entitled had the back payments been completed at the time of becoming a member

Should a disability annuitant die before the total allowance received for disability shall be at least equal to the amount of his or her accumulated deductions at the time of disability retirement then the board shall pay to the named beneficiary or to the annuitant's estate an amount equal to the difference between the allowance received and the annuitant's accumulated deductions and if such amount is less than one hundred dollars ($100) and no letters have been taken out on the estate within six months after death then payment may be made to the undertaker or to any person or political subdivision who or which shall have paid the claim of the undertaker

Superannuation Retirement

Section 13 Retirement for superannuation shall be as follows

(1) Any contributor who has reached the superannuation retirement age may retire for superannuation by filing with the retirement board a written statement duly attested setting forth [at what time subsequent to the execution of said application] on what date he or she desires to be retired Said application shall [retire said contributor at the time so specified or in the descretion of the retirement board at the end of the year in which the time so specified occurs] make the superannuation allowance effective on the date so specified if such application was filed in the offices of the board or deposited in the United States mail addressed to the board before the date specified in the application and before the death of the contributor Provided however That the date so specified in the application shall not be more than thirty days from the date of filing or depositing the application in the mail

(2) On retirement for superannuation a contributor shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of

(a) A member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and

(b) A State annuity of one one-hundred-sixtieth (1-160) or one one-hundredth (1-100) of his or her final salary for each year of total service except in the case of members who upon becoming members subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four elected or hereafter elect not to make back payments in which case the State annuity shall be calculated only for each year of total service while a member and

(c) In addition thereto if an original member of the retirement association a further State annuity of one one-hundred-sixtieth (1-160) or one one-hundredth (1-100) of his or her final salary for each year of prior service as certified to said original member in the certificate issued to him or her by the retirement board under the provisions of section ten of this act but in no event shall the total State annuity exceed fifty per centum of his or her final salary

Section 8 That section fourteen of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 389) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 14 At the time of his or her superannuation retirement any contributor may elect to receive his or her benefits in a retirement allowance payable throughout life or if such retirement allowance amounts to less than [five] ten dollars [($5)] ($10) per month he or she may elect to receive the full amount of the accumulated deductions standing to his or her individual credit in the annuity savings account or he or she may on superannuation retirement elect to receive the actuarial equivalent at that time of his or her member's annuity State annuity or retirement allowance in a lesser member's annuity or a lesser State annuity or a less retirement allowance payable throughout life with the provisions that mitted to work not more than six days and not more than fifty hours in the weeks so selected but not to exceed ten hours in any one day of such weeks, under regulations adopted by the Department for such work and in all such cases the same peak periods shall cover all departments of the establishment and further provided that female telephone and telegraph operators may in cases of emergency which would result in interruption or impairment of services to the public, be employed in excess of the hours herein stipulated and further"; amend section 3, page 4, line 1, by inserting after the word "canning" the following: "and packing"; amend section 3, page 4, lines 8 to 11 inclusive by striking out the following: "and if the work during any one day is not continuous but is divided into two or more periods all such periods shall fall within twelve consecutive hours"; amend section 3, page 4, lines 14 and 15 inclusive by striking out the following: "operated not more than four and one-half months in any one year and in"; amend section 3 (b), page 6, line 2 by striking out the word: "forty" and inserting in lieu thereof: "forty-four"; amend section 7, page 6, line 24 by striking out the word: "five" and inserting in lieu thereof "six"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 248 (House Bill No. 140), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvaia by adding thereto a section.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I again feel it my duty to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this is a joint resolution authorizing the bonding of the State for $42,000,000 for rehabilitating State institutions. I think it is a fair question to ask why it is necessary to borrow $42,000,000. when President Roosevelt very kindly presents us with $20,000,000, and we have a State Authority which will issue at least $39,000,000 in additional bonds for this same purpose of rehabilitating State institutions. It seems to me that we ought not carelessly endorse a bond issue for $42,000,000 at this time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provivions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

NAYS—7

Chapman,	Ealy,	Pierson,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Homsher,	Reed,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to state this fact. I kept tally on the roll call and there was not a constitutional majority who were in their places and voted "aye." The names were called with no response, and I think that is a very miserable way to conduct a vote for $42,000,000, with not attention being paid by the Senate and the clerk reporting a constitutional majority when it is not true. I think it is only fair that the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations would explain why we would have to pass this joint resolution for $42,000,000.

The PRESIDENT. The comments made by the Senator with respect to the Senators not answering to their names, I think, is very correct, but it very probably is not true that they have not considered the bill. The Chair would advise the Senators to respond to their names, so that it would facilitate the work being done.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not want to be discourteous to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, but I think he should favor us with a little explanation of why we would have to borrow $42,000,000.

The PRESIDENT. It is a closed incident; the matter is settled.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have nothing more to say, then.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 289 (House Bill No. 150), entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one. (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred thirty-one) entitled "An act providing for the appointment of a board of examiners to examine applicants for the office of inspector for the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth prescribing the qualifications defining the powers and duties and fixing the compensation of such examiners providing for the appointment and removal of inspectors of anthracite mines prescribing their qualifications and regulating their salaries and term of office and abolishing the terms of office of the present mine inspectors of the anthracite mines" by defining the term "coal miners"

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 406, entitled:

And Act making an appropriation to the Local Government Commission to continue its work

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, line 4, by striking out after the bracket the word "ten" and on line 5 the words "ten thousand dollars" ($10,000) and inserting in lieu thereof the words "five thousand" ($5,000).

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 406, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, may I ask the purpose of sending this bill back to the committee on Appropriations?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, because I have been told that $5,000. would be no sum, or would not be sufficient at all to carry on this work. I think the Senate realized that, and if we are not going to have an adequate sum, we might as well have none at all.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, if I am correctly informed, this Local Government Commission that was appointed two years ago held a number of hearings over the State collecting a mass of material and submitted some recommendation to this Legislature. The work has been started and I do not think the work should be discontinued, and I might add that if I am correctly informed, this committee has spent $5,000. during the past biennium, and I think that the work can be ably continued with $5,000. for the next biennium. For this reason I suggest that the Senate do not send this bill back to the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I ask the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations what was the amount of the appropriation asked for?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, ten thousand dollars and the committee has spent to date less than $5,000. of that $10,000.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, insist upon his motion?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I do not insist upon my motion.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the motion is withdrawn.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and conderation of Senate Bill No. 486, entitled:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 642, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for acquisition of land by purchase condemnation or otherwise for State Park purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I politely ask the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who has just given $5,000. for the improvement of local government, how much he is giving for the acquisition of a State Park—I do do not want to embarrass him.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Pihladelphia can discover that by looking at the bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. In the first place, I do not see what authority the Chairman of another committee has to pass upon an appropriation bill. I would like to ask what is the amount of this appropriation for the State Park?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, answer the Senator?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, what do you want to know?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to know what the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health—how can you appropriate money for a state park?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, it was not handled in my committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I want to know the amount.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, fifty thousand dollars. Mr. President, this appropriations was asked for after consulting with the Secretary of Forests and Waters. It is to purchase a block of land, within the state park known as Cook's Forest. In the northern part of Clarion County, there is located over 7,000 acres of primeval forests. In 1927, by a donation and by an appropriation of the legislature, it was taken over. The donation raised $200,000, and the Legislature appropriated $400,000, to purchase this pine forest. This forest contains over 7,000 acres of land taken on the beautiful banks of the Clarion river.

I was in the House at the time this land was purchased for a State Park and today this tract is practically self sustaining, and if we had enough cottages there, there would be no question about it. During the Sundays and week-ends as many as 6,000 people will be on that tract in one day. Now, the reason for this appropriations is this: when it was purchased by the State, there was a block of land covered with virgin pine, containing 180 acres, in the center of the tract owned by an individual, and which could not be purchased. Now the time has come when these 180 acres of land can be bought. The lumbermen have an option on it and they will give $40,000, for it. The timber is worth it and after that 180 acres of pine is taken out, it will supply gas for many years especially wells. I know the wells that have been producing there, and it is for the purchase of this and not allowing the lumberman to go into the heart of that part and cut away that 180 acres of virgin pine that we want this appropriation. If you want to enjoy yourself, go to Cook's Park. I am not asking too large an appropriation, and there is not a man who enjoys the outdoors who should not go and see that beautiful park, and I am sure if he wuld see it he would not allow them to cut down that beautiful pine.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have heard the clarion call of Dr. Kahle and I have no doubt of the beauty of Cook's Park; but what I object to is the way $50,000, is taken from the taxpayers. I do not see what authority the Committee on Forests and Waters had to appropriate $50,000, nor do I see, with all due respects, what the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health had to do with the appropriation of $50,000.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

I, therefore, move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I interrogate the the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Adams whether there are other examples of appropriations that do not go to that Committee?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I believe that this is the first bill that I recall that has been up for passage that has not been in the appropriations committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, does the Senator from Adams believe that this is the proper way to appropriate the taxpayers money?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I did not refer this to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is the Senator willing to have this bill recommitted?

The PRESIDENT, the question is on the motion to recommit.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, this particular bill was reported from the Committee of which I happen to be Chairman. It was not reported until it had been discussed with the Secretary of the Budget, the Department of Forests and Waters and in the Appropriations Committee. I cannot see the necessity of some of the technique in either defeating or successfully passing an item of appropriation. I believe and I am sure that the Committee believes, that there will be no more worthy item of appropriation in this Legislature of 1937 than the proposition by the Senator from Clarion. I am personally familiar with the tract of land and with the forests described. I think the sole question is a desirable appropriation in order to preserve for all times a possession that would be worth the item of this appropriation. I know there are those who do not feel sufficiently familiar as to the nature of this transaction, but I think we should go ahead and pass this bill as reported.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I am somewhat amazed, yet I realize why the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, has made objection to this. Today the Senator from Philadelphia is in the same position in the Senate as I was in the House. Today the Senator from Philadelphia, is one of 16 Senators; at the time this appropriation was passed in the Legislature in 1927, I was one of 16 Democrats in a Republican Legislature, and the Republicans at that time knew what they were doing and passed the legislation without hesitation, and I am surprised that they will revert to that, because it is the same man who is now asking only for the protection of what we already have. Members of the Senate, why should they be allowed to go into the heart of that forest and cut out 180 acres of that beautiful pine? What will we do to protect it? We have our money invested, you are only purchasing and you are getting full value. Are we going to let the lumber company go in and ruin our park? I say to you that if they are able to double the amount of cabins, that tract will be self-sustaining and they are working to that end now as far as they can.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 4 Existing or Future Obstructions within Approach Zones Prohibited Except as hereinafter provided it shall be unlawful for any person to maintain any existing obstruction or erect any future obstruction on land or water adjoining any airport which invades the approach zone

Section 5 Removal of Existing Obstructions Non-conforming Use Within thirty days after the effective date of this act any owner upon whose property exists any obstruction which invades any approach zone may file an application with the department for a certificate of non-conforming use If in the opinion of the secretary the continued existence of the obstruction will not be hazardous to the air-traveling public at the time such application is made he may grant the applicant owner a certificate of non-conforming use which will entitle the owner to maintain the obstruction without being subject to any of the penalties of this act Provided however That such certificate shall be revocable by the department upon three months' written notice The secretary shall also have the authority to grant certificates of non-conforming use upon his own motion without any application by the owner

Section 6 Removal of Existing Obstructions Upon refusal by the secretary to grant a certificate of non-conforming use or upon failure of the owner to make application for such a certificate it shall become the duty of the owner to remove any obstruction within three months after the effective date of this act If the owner neglects fails or refuses to remove the obstruction the department may refer the matter to the Department of Justice for the institution of proceedings at law or in equity to compel the removal of the obstruction The municipality owning any municipal airport and the person owning any licensed airport shall also have the power and authority to institute proceedings at law or in equity to compel the removal of any obstruction within the approach zone of the particular municipal or licensed airport involved The owner shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and undergo imprisonment of not more than thirty days or both

Section 7 Compensation for Removal of Existing Structures The department acting with respect to State airports and any municipaity or person owning a municipal or licensed airport shall be authorized to enter into agreements with the owner of an existing obstruction the removal of which is necessary under the provisions of this act for compensation to be paid to the owner by reason of such removal If the owner and the department municipality or person owning any licensed airport are unable to agree as to the price to be paid then the owner shall have the right to bring an action in assumpsit in the court of the county wherein the obstruction is situated for the purpose of having that court with or without a jury determine what amount the Commonwealth municipality or person owning the airport should pay for the removal of an existing obstruction The court shall compute the present value of the obstruction to be removed on the basis of its replacement cost less depreciation in no event shall loss of business or anticipated profits be considered as elements of damage Either party shall have the right of appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court from the final judgment of the court of common pleas

Section 8 Future Obstructions Prohibited Compensation for Interference with Use of Property After the effective date of this act no owner shall be entitled to any damages whatsoever for any obstructions thereafter erected which invades the approach zone and all such obstructions shall be removed forthwith in accordance with the provisions of this act relating to existing obstructions However where the owner believes that the reasonable and lawful use of his property existing at the time the airport was established is interfered with by the take off and landing of aircraft he shall be entitled to negotiate with the department on behalf of the Commonwealth and with the municipality or person owning the municipal or licensed airport in order to enter into agreements for compensation for such interference and the department and respective municipalities and persons are hereby authorized to enter into such agreements In the event that the owner and the department or municipality or person owning the airport cannot agree then the owner shall have the opportunity to present his claim in an action of assumpsit in the same manner as is herein provided for determining the amount of compensation to be paid for the removal of existing obstructions

Section 9 Commonwealth Compensation to Be Paid from Motor License Fund The amounts agreed upon as to State airports between the department and owners or public service companies or the amounts of any final judgments or rulings awarding compensation to owners or such companies under the provisions of this act shall be paid from moneys in the Motor License Fund appropriated by law to the department for the purpose of purchasing and acquiring in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania air navigation facilities

Section 10 Removal of Facilities of Public Service Companies Whenever the provisions of this act may require the removal of the facilities of any public service company such company may place such facilities into underground conduits The department acting on behalf of the Commonwealth and the municipality or person owning any municipal or licensed airport as the case may be are hereby authorized to enter into agreements with the public service company to contribute toward the expense resulting from such removal of public service company facilities In the event that the department municipality or person owning the airport as the case may be and the public service company are unable to agree on the amount to be paid the matter shall be referred to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission which shall after hearing make a finding establishing the amount to be paid to the public service company if any Either party shall have the right to appeal to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania from the ruling of the commission

Section 11 Limitations The right of the owner to apply from compensation in connection with the use of the air space over and above his land for take off or landing of aircraft shall cease two years after the first take off or landing from the airport in question has occurred Provided however That the two-year limitation within which a claim may be brought shall not commence to run against any owner whose property is adjoining to any existing airport until the effective date of this act

Section 12 Restraining Suits in Equity From and after the effective date of this act no owner shall be entitled to bring in any court of equity within this Commonwealth any action to restrain the take off or landing of aircraft within the approach zones created by this act and no court shall take jurisdiction of any such action Provided however That nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the owner to bring an action of treaspass for damage caused by forced or emergency landing upon his property or for any other damage caused by actually and tangibly breaking the close

Section 13 Interpretation of Act The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 14 Repeal The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-eight) entitled "An act prohibiting the future erection and maintenance of obstructions dangerous to aerial transport adjacent to or near an airport landing field or intermediate landing field" and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill if this is not a diversion from the Motor Fund for other than highway purposes?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I cannot answer that. I know this is a bill for the provision of equipment and buildings or the removal of obstacles in zones that the Aeronautic Department has set up.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is it not a fact that it makes an appropriation from the Motor Fund for something other than the improvement of highways?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, do they not contribute to the fund—they use gasoline.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I will be glad to answer the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if he wants to ask a question, but if he intends to embarrass me I am not answering the question.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, not at all. Is this money to be appropriated to the State Aeronautics Commission?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, yes, it is.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if the Senator will turn to page 9, he will find that the State Aeronautics Commission is out of business.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, well, we intend to give this money to the Aeronautics Commission anyway.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. OSTROFF. RESOLUTION No. 82.

In the House of Representatives, May 11, 1937.

Whereas, Many of the fire, casualty, life and accident insurance companies have begun requiring questionnaires to be filed in by applicants for such insurance, so as to receive information as to the color, nationality and race of the applicant; and

Whereas, An opinion has been growing that certain companies refuse to issue policies to certain applicants simply because of their color, race or nationality; and

Whereas, The cost of industrial life insurance in particular, has and continues to be exceedingly exhorbitant; and

Whereas, It is difficult to understand how the question of color, race or nationality should be a factor in the determination of a risk; and

Whereas, If it is a question of morals, it should not be determined simply by excluding or rejecting certain persons because of their color, race or nationality; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Insurance Commissioner of Pennsylvania investigate whether there is any discrimination in the issuance of policies on the ground of color, race or nationality; and be it further

Resolved, That the Insurance Commissioner of Pennsylvania investigate the high cost of industrial life insurance in Pennsylvania to determine the reason for this continued high cost; and be it further

Resolved, That the Insurance Commissioner, if he finds there is discrimination, shall investigate the extent of such discrimination with a view toward refusing to allow companies which are discriminating the privilege of continuing to do business in Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Insurance.

By Mr. WESTRICK. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 83.

In the House of Representatives, May 11, 1937.

Whereas, The Seventh World's Poultry Congress will be held in the United States in the early part of 1939, which will be its first meeting in the United States; and

Whereas, The United States is now the leading poultry producing and consuming nation of the world; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania ranks first among the states in the value of eggs produced, fourth in the value of chickens raised, fifth in the number of eggs produced, and seventh in the number of chickens raised; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby invites the Seventh World's Poultry Congress to hold its 1939 exhibition in Pennsylvania, and urges favorable consideration of this invitation because of the importance of Pennsylvania in the poultry industry and the suitable exhibition places which are available for such purposes in this State.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the committee in charge of the selection of the place for the holding of this exhibition by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Recalling House Bill No. 369 from the Governor.

Mr. BROWN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 12, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 369, Printer's No. 509, entitled "An act to amend section one of article fifteen of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws 20) entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class' as amended by reducing the number of newspapers for official advertising," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker in the Pennsylvania Real Estate Board's Legislative Bulletin, No. 60, page 2, the following article appears:

"H. R. No. 1757, our approved amendments to the Real Estate License Law, have not yet come from the Committee on State Boards of which Hon. Benjamin L. Long is Chairman. Just a few brokers, in their individual capacity, have succeeded in holding up this Bill. The time has come when we must act IMMEDIATELY, if it is to be reported out and passed at the present Session. Please let your own Representative and your Senator know that this Bill is wanted, WITHOUT ANY MUTILATION, by all the Real Estate Boards of Pennsylvania and that WE WILL NOT BE DENIED. Then concentrate whatever influence you possess to bring Representatives Flanagan, Hering, Long, O'Brien, and Tumelty into line. These five Philadelphia representatives are in sympathy with the efforts of certain individuals to weaken the Act—they need to be impressed with the fact that we know, better than they, what is needed to make the Act efficient."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the Pennsylvania Real Estate Board knows better than the members of the Legislature what should be and what should not be enacted into law. At any rate I have sat in conference with various real estate men throughout the State of Pennsylvania in my own time and tried to have them stop kidding one another and say what they want in this bill. Up to now there have been various real estate boards who did not agree with the bill the way it is. The other real estate boards have said, "Let us put this bill through and then we will put one through for you." I don't believe that I could be consistent after having objected to a paperhangers' license bill to stand up here and say that a real estate salesman should have to take an examination and be licensed.

If the Pennsylvania Real Estate Board think that they are the people that know it all, I want them to understand that I think I know just as much about legislation as they do and that I will not be driven by any magazine or other article which intends to drive me into supporting legislation to which I cannot subscribe.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under a question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

Mr. O'KEEFE in the Chair.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1712 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 11, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1712. Printer's No. 602. entitled "An act to the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 198) entitled 'An act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' increasing the powers now exercised by the judges of said court and making the judges of the County Court in and for the County of Allegheny available for use in other courts in the same judicial district," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HABERLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Repeal Bills to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

STATEMENT BY Mr. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have always believed that the victors should be magnanimous and I have never believed in crowning over victories, but when you have sat as we have on this side of the House since 1935 and taken it on the chin, I am sure that you on the other side of the House will not begrudge us a feeling of elation when we look back among our decks and see the floral decorations which signify victory for one of our colleagues.

I think it was a fine thing that in the 18th District they chose two of our colleagues to represent the two principal political parties in the contest in that district. They could not all win and I liked the fine spirit of the loser this morning as shown in my conversation with him, but I could have expected nothing else but that spirit and I know that he, too, will not feel affronted if we on this side of the House celebrate a little bit.

I feel that the 18th District, as I say, was fortunate in choosing two of our colleagues as candidates, and I also feel that the State of Pennsylvania is fortunate in going to having as its representative in Congress a man of the sterling ability and worth of Dick Simpson.

I have worked with him in this House since he came here, and he has been one of the younger members to me, and I know and I am sincere in saying that he will be a real contribution to the congressional delegation from this State in the Congress of the United States

The contest was waged on clean cut lines, neither man pussy-footed on the stand he was taking and the issues were clearly defined in the contest and as my friends on the Democratic side would say, the mandate of the people has been issued.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I am sure that my Democratic friends, as well as Republicans, join with me this morning in asking you to call to the Chair the gentleman from Huntingdon, not because he is a Republican but because I am certain each and every one of us have the satisfaction of knowing that a member of this House, a man who has served in it faithfully and earnestly, has been promoted and is stepping up into a larger field of service and a larger field of duty.

I request, Mr. Speaker, that you invite the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Simpson, to the rostrum.

STATEMENT BY Mr. ALEXANDER

Mr. ALEXANDER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise at this time to join in the request of the honorable gentleman from Delaware, asking the victor, my worthy opponent and colleague, Dick Simpson to the rostrum.

It was a good, clean fight, and I believe that I was big enough to take it, but there is only one thing wrong in that district, there were entirely too many Republicans turned out to vote.

I felt all the while that I was making headway and Dick felt the same way about it too, but when the votes were finally counted, he went in by no small majority.

I also agree with the gentleman from Delaware that it was a mandate of the people, and that there is no guess work. I really might say that I enjoyed it as a good, clean, fight, and I might also say that not the biggest man won in the district but the best man won.

At this time I want to congratulate Mr. Simpson, my colleague, and wish him all the success in the world. More power to you Dick, and I hope that some day I will catch up with you and that we may again have a good time together.

STATEMENT BY Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in speaking for the Democratic delegation we wish to extend our sincere congratulations to the gentleman from Huntingdon. He has now an opportunity for greater service not only to his constituency but to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and we wish to assure him that we are sincere in extending to him our best and sincere wishes for a continued and successful career.

Last evening the Democrats were celebrating a victory dinner and the general tenor there seemed to be that the Democrats had so many Victory Dinners to celebrate. Our State and National Committeewoman, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller made what I thought was a very clever report in commenting upon the great number of Victory Dinners which we have had to celebrate: that a certain outstanding Democratic politician in Allegheny County felt that every time that his wife served chicken, peas and potatoes at the same time at dinner, he had to get up and make a speech. So we do not begrudge the fact that the Republicans will now have an opportunity to eat chicken, peas and potatoes at the same time.

However, these by-elections are always confusing. The so-called Shoestring District in a clear and unequivocal mandate of the people have elected to Congress a worthy member of this House and by the same clear and unequivocal mandate of the people the Democrats in a Senatorial district have elected to the Senate a Democratic Senator. So the by-elections at times do not prove anything except that they have elected a worthy man to Congress and a worthy man to the Senate and so we Democratic members of this House of Representatives are sincere in extending to that worthy man, the new Congressman, our best hopes and wishes for a continued successful career.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to escort the newly elected Congressman to the rostrum, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner and the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Alexander.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have the pleasure of presenting to you the the Congressman-elect from 18th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, our colleague, Mr. Richard M. Simpson.

The SPEAKER. Members of the House, it is now my pleasure to present to you the baby member of the Congress of the United States, our colleague, Dick Simpson.

REMARKS BY Mr. SIMPSON

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, approaching the rostrum as I did between a Democratic member and a Republican member of this Assembly and approaching it so recently after listening to one of the speeches in which it was mentioned that a victory dinner might be held by the Republicans at this time, might I also suggest that one might be held by the Democratic members, so that during this Pollyanna stuff we all could be happy.

It has been quite an experience that I have had during the past three weeks chasing over the entire 18th Congressional District with my friend to the left. I would chase him awhile and then he would chase me. We covered some thousands of miles; in fact, I was afraid for awhile, basing my opinion on the reaction I had from some of our districts, that perhaps my mileage would exceed my votes. My good friend and former opponent was very kind. He and I conducted what I consider a clean campaign, and if that seems unusual to any of you permit me to assure you that in our Congressional district; yes, in our part of Pennsylvania, clean campaigns are the rule. We simply made the campaign a matter of issues, so that those who voted might know what the person for whom they voted would stand for after election. At this particular time, to my satisfaction, they agreed with me.

I received the most earnest compliments of my opponent when I entered the hall here today, and I am sure we will continue the friendship we have for a number of years enjoyed.

I would like to say something appropriate to the group before me to express my sorrow about leaving this Assembly. I realize, however, that some of you might think that I was saying it with a grain of salt, and that I am really glad to advance, and that is the way I shall look at it. So I will simply say I shall miss many of my friends here and hope in Washington to acquire just as many new friendships and that they will be just as close to me as I have them here today. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. I am sure that we appreciate very much the words of the new Congressman.

STATEMENT BY Mr. COLEMAN

Mr. COLEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when my good friend and gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Alexander, made reference to the rather substantial majority that separated him from victory in his contest, I was reminded that in the 1936 election in Lackawanna county, one of the rural residents of our county was cut off from communication from the rest of the county by reason of the fact that he had no radio and had no means of knowing how the battle was progressing and so, at 11:00 o'clock at night, he called up Democratic headquarters and he asked the gentleman in charge of headquarters how the battle was going. The reply was "President Roosevelt is leading by twenty-five thousand and Boland (who was our Congressional candidate) was leading by twenty-two thousand." It took him completely off his feet and he said, "Wow, it looks like a landscape." So, Mr. Speaker, I was reminded of that when the defeated candidate so graciously admitted that the victory was decisive to that particular extent.

What I have to say has no direct connection with this particular election but the fact that the Republican membership of this House is in a celebrating mood might be conducive to their supporting a particular bill that I have now resting in committee.

On January 13 I introduced a bill, House Bill No. 153, proposing to have adopted by the Pennsylvania Legislature a song written by Joe Francis Weber as the official State song. That bill was referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special and later referred to a sub-committee for the purpose of consultation with Dr. Ade and for further study. The learned doctor suggested that there ought to be some sort of a contest in the State with a view to selecting a song for presentation to the next session of the Legislature and for its adoption. In line with that particular thought the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Skale, has presented a resolution to carry out that idea.

In 1935, at the American Legion Convention in St. Louis, the Koch-Conley Post, which is one of the largest American Legion Posts in the State needed a song to sort of identify itself at that particular convention, and so informed Joe Francis Weber of Lackawanna county and he got busy and House Bill No. 153 is the result of his effort. At that particular convention when the song was played it made an immediate hit and the Koch-Conley Post adopted it as their particular song. Later on the American Legion in this State thought so well of this song that they adopted it and they advised the committee of their interest in the song being adopted by this Legislature.

It is my understanding that while we have a State flower, and a State tree and a State bird we do not have any State song to identify properly this State in national conventions. I think that a song worthy of adoption by the State ought to have certain qualities, that the words ought to be of a historic and patriotic nature, that the music ought to be within easy singing range and that it ough to be in march time so as to add to its value as a parade song. Joe Francis Weber's song in House Bill No. 153 has all those particular qualities.

May I read to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the first verse of this particular song:

"Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania, Land where Liberty was born;
Pennsylvania, Keystone State, Where the bands of tyranny were shorn.
Valley Forge and Brandywine, Live in memory,
Battle fields of freedom, Sacred soil of liberty."

Of the twenty-two songs that have been presented to this Legislature over a period of years, none, in my opinion, is so typically Pennsylvanian and so well exemplifies the splendid spirit of this grand old Commonwealth. Just a week or so ago I saw, Mr. Speaker and members, a motion picture of the events leading to the writing of the Star Spangled Banner. It was an inspirational sight to see Francis Scott Key as he stood, a prisoner on a ship anchored outside of Baltimore, watching the fighting in the early dawn, watching the bursting bombs illuminating the penetrating smoke and showing Old Glory visible in the background. It was that particular incident that lead to the writing of that line, "The rockets red glare and bombs bursting in air gave proof through the right that our flag was still there." So, Mr. Speaker, I thought that this was an appropriate time to call to the attention of the membership of the House that Pennsylvania ought to have a State song.

You know music is the universal language. It is a means of expressing emotions and feelings without words. Long before man had a name for any thought or anything, he had hopes, he had fears, he had passions. These were gradually manifested in his music. Had there never been any human affection, there never would have been a strain of music; language is not subtle enough, not tender enough, not inspiring enough to say all that we want to say, the expression of all that we feel, and when language fails, our highest and noblest thoughts are translated into music, the sunshine and the climate of the soul. So, Mr. Speaker, while we are going down the home stretch of a rather busy Legislative session and still have a large number of problems facing us for solution, I think we ought to have a State song. I think we have enough in Pennsylvania that we ought to be proud to sing it to the whole world. I am asking, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since the Republican membership is in a spirit of joviality so to speak and the Democratic members are always in that same spirit—I am asking this General Assembly to adopt House Bill No. 153 and thus obviate the necessity of adopting Mr. Skale's resolution.

STATEMENT BY Mr. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I listened with rapt attention to the fluent flow of words of the eliquent gentleman from Lackawanna county and I tell you he had the chills running up and down my spine when he was talking about the Star Spangler Banner and the song for our State, but I couldn't help wondering about it as he was talking because he said we didn't have a song.

Now I have been around several places where they had what they called "Victory Dinners," and I have watched those in attendance and seen a lot of our citizens dancing and I thought "Happy Days Are Here Again" was the great anthem of the people of Pennsylvania. I thought that that had been accepted and adopted as the State song, and I have been wondering whether the gentleman from Lackawanna is sort of receding from that position and whether because of events in the 18th Congressional District yesterday he wants to change that from "Happy Days Are Here Again" to something about Pennsylvania and its liberties. If you are doubtful about those happy days being here again or if you think they are past and gone, I would like to join with the gentlemen from Lackawanna, too, in getting some kind of State song—at least one than would do away with "Happy Days Are Here Again." I though there was another song that might sort of put "Happy Days" out of the running. It was something about "Raining Pennies from Heaven" but after contact with the majority floor leader I realize that you could never be a good Democrat and talk about pennies. Therefore, let us have this song and let us join with the gentleman from Lackawanna in securing a Pennsylvania song, one that has to do with current times and that may not be obliterated as quickly as "Happy Days Are Here Again.'

STATEMENT BY Mr. COAKLEY

Mr. COAKLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Resolved that the House of Representatives now in session hereby places itself on record in tending its heartiest congratulatnons to the electorate of Northampton county on the selection and election of William Barthold as Senator from Northampton county, and for its enthusiastic endorsement of the able accomplishments of an outstanding citizen of a county known for its stout adherence to Democratic principles and policies even before the Civil War, a larger majority in proportion to the votes cost at the last election. Mr. Barthold's platform was one hundred percent for the Roosevelt and Earle platform.

Let us have this for our song: (sings)

Is it true what they say about Roosevelt
That he gave everybody a break
The poor man and farmer,
They praised him to the sky
He saved them all from starving
While others passed them by
In the north, east and west, and in Dixie
There's employment there all the time
Skies are fair everywhere
Since he's in the White House Chair

He is in there; that's where he belongs.

STATEMENT BY Mr. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the wrong time of the morning for me to sing. I would have, however, had I the chance and felt that my vocal chords at this time of the day without the necessary lubrication could stand it,—I would reply to the gentleman from Northampton by singing: "The Old Grey Mare Ain't What She Used to Be."

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the song by my good friend Mr. Coakley I think I owe the membership of this House an explanation as to why I myself did not attempt to sing this song in which I am interested. Some of my colleagues threatened that if I mentioned it on the floor they were going to insist upon my singing it, and were it not for the fact that I am conscientiously interested in its adoption I would do so.

I cannot help being reminded of the story of the gentleman who thought that he had a singing voice and secured a job in a ten cent store to plug songs. It was his job to plug pieces of music. Somebody asked him how he was doing on the job and he said that the sales had increased forty percent since he had been on the job, and the friend asked "How do you account for that ?" and he answered "Every time I sing 'Pennies from Heaven' the management sells a hundred copies of 'Mother Machree.' So, I thought in mentioning that, that I would rather confine my efforts to speaking for my song instead of trying to emulate Crosby and Rudy Vallee.

STATEMENT BY Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I realize that it is necessary that we proceed with the legislative duties of the day, and I further realize that it is always the function and purpose of this House to have an actual transcription of the record made by the transcribing clerks and by the proof readers and the printers of the journal, and I therefore ask that the transcribing clerks and the official stenographers to make it their official duty to see that we have an accurate report and that all the flat notes of the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Coakley, actually be transcribed.

STATEMENT BY Mr. COSTANZO

Mr. COSTANZO asked an obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to read to the membership of the House a letter I received this morning from a very dear friend of mine. He writes:

"Dear Rocco,

Last night I had the pleasure of dining with Johnny Jockey and his precocious thirteen year old son, Robert. After dinner our conversation drifted to the topic of the day—horse racing. We talked for about an hour on this subject, during which time young Robert listened very attentively. To my surprise he suddenly began plying his Dad with a lot of questions. The interrogation went something like this:

"Daddy, did I hear you say the Republicans voted like blockheads on the horse racing bill?" "No, Sonny, what I did say was that the Republicans voted as a bloc with the exception of two heads." "What made them vote that way, Daddy?" "Well, you see Sonny, that is supposed to be smart politics. The Republicans knew that Davey was against the bill although he is a lover of horse racing, mind you, and that Jack was for the bill; so they just figured on getting Jack sore at Davey and by this clever bit of maneuvering, undoubtedly inspired by the ingenious Republican Floor Leader, Ellwood, they probably felt they could take the State in about twenty-five years instead of the conservatively estimated time of fifty years." "Gee, Daddy, I saw a picture of Ellwood once and he looked like a regular fellow to me." "He is, Bobby, he is a swell guy, except when he votes." "Why was Davey against the bill, Daddy?" "Davey was against the bill because he felt that people who don't have any money, like people on relief, would bet money on the races. He also felt that it was immoral and unchristian to place a bet on a horse race." "Now you're kidding me, Daddy! How can anybody who doesn't have any money, bet on the races. Can you place bets on credit?"

"No, Sonny, you can't place a bet on a horse race on credit. You can only gamble that way on the stock market." "Why does Davey think horse race betting is immoral, Daddy?" "He doesn't really think so, Bobby, because he likes to place a bet himself once in a while. You probably saw his picture in the papers last Saturday, attending the Kentucky Derby. You see, he is a shrewd politician and he figures it's not good politics to further antagonize a certain class of voters who are now, have been in the past, and will in the future, be against him." "I don't see where it is immoral to have horse racing, Daddy. Horse racing would be held only on week days and the horses could still go to church on Sunday, unless they preferred to go to the movies. Daddy, do they have horse racing in the rural communities?" "Yes, they do, at the county fairs." "And do the people attending these fairs bet on the races?" "Of course they do—stop asking foolish questions. It is no fun watching a race without placing a little bet." "Oh, I see, Daddy, I understand now. It is only immoral to bet in the cities." "You are right son." "Daddy, who is Herbie?" "Well, son, Herbie is the handsome, modest, unassuming, unpretentious, sober, honest, industrious, energetic, young Democratic Floor Leader. " "How did he vote, Daddy?" "He voted with the conservative majority." "I thought he was a Liberal." "He was." "Gosh, Daddy, I am all confused; I can't make this out at all. I'm afraid to go to sleep now for fear I might have a nightmare." "You and me both Sonny."

Your friend,

Johnny Jockey."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the word: "section" and inserting in lieu thereof: "sections two hundred and fifty-six and"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 3, by striking out the word: "is" and inserting in lieu thereof: "are"

Amend Bill, page 2, by inserting between lines 4 and 5 the following: "Section 256. Assistant District Attorneys; Number; Compensation.—In counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes, the district attorney may appoint such number of assistants, learned in the law, to assist him in the discharge of his duties as is fixed by this section.

In counties of the second class, the district attorney shall have authority to appoint one, or more, assistants learned in the law, not exceeding sixteen in number. One of said assistant district attorneys, who shall be designated as the first assistant, shall receive a salary of seventy-five hundred dollars ($7,500) per annum. One of said assistant district attorneys, who shall be designated as the second assistant, shall receive a salary of sixty-five hundred dollars ($6,500) per annum. Two of said assistant district attorneys shall receive salaries of six thousand dollars ($6,000) per annum each. Four of said assistant district attorneys shall receive salaries of fifty-five hundred dollars ($5,500) per annum each. Two of said assistant district attorneys shall receive salaries of five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum each. Two of said assistant district attorneys shall receive salaries of forty-five hundred dollars ($4,500) per annum each, and four of said assistant district attorneys shall receive salaries of four thousand dollars ($4,000) per annum each. In the event of the appointment of a less number of assistants than sixteen, the district attorney shall have the power to determine into which class as to salaries the appointee or appointees shall be placed. Said salaries herein provided shall be paid out of the county treasury.

For all counties of the third class, the district attorney shall have authority to appoint a first assistant district attorney, at an annual salary of four thousand dollars ($4,000), and three assistant district attorneys, at annual salaries of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) each and two assistant district attorneys, at annual salaries of three thousand dollars ($3,000) each.

In all counties of the fourth class, the district attorney shall have authority to appoint a first assistant district attorney, at an annual salary of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500), and three assistant district attorneys, at annual salaries of three thousand dollars ($3,000) each.

In counties of the fifth class the district attorney shall have authority to appoint one assistant district attorney at an annual salary of two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400), and in counties of the sixth class, with the approval of the court, the district attorney shall have authority to appoint not more than two assistant district attorneys. The first assistant district attorney shall receive a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) per annum, and the second assistant district attorney shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars ($2,000) per annum.

The salary board of any county of the third class, in case of an emergency or on account of increased business or unusual circumstances or conditions, may authorize the district attorney to appoint such additional assistant district attorneys as may be approved by the courts; Provided, however, That the salary of said appointees shall not exceed the minimum salary provided for assistants in the respective offices."

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 278), page 2, line 13, by striking out the words: "monthly or"

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 278), page 2, line 13, by inserting after the word: "salary" the following: "not exceeding eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Nagel.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NAGEL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver what is the purpose of this amendment.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, the amendments as prepared for this bill apply only to the fifth class counties.

Mr. TURNER. I understand that, Mr. Speaker, that this bill affects only fifth class counties.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, the bill calls for a detective to be appointed. This amendment provides for the appointment and the salary for this detective, and also provides that in fifth class counties one assistant district attorney be appointed, and sets the salary for this assistant district attorney.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is enlarging this bill. This bill does not say anything about district attorneys. This bill refers to the question of the appointment of a detective in fifth class counties.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Delaware will wait until the further amendments are read he will find that it will bring out the part that I have stated.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot wait until they have been read if the Speaker asks us to agree to the amendments to the first section. You are changing Section 78; you are changing from 78 to 56; which might change the whole purpose of the act.

Mr. NAGEL. I cannot see, Mr. Speaker, that it will change the purpose of the whole act.

Mr. TURNER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Speaker, whether he will not withdraw his amendments and ask that this bill be passed over until we have a chance to confer on it.

Mr. NAGEL. I will do so, Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the amendments and ask that it be passed over.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 2225, Senate Bill No. 787, Printer's No. 310, was passed over at the request of Mr. SARRAF.

Section 306 Apportionment of Joint Rates Where public utilities entitled to share in any joint rate shall be unable to agree upon the division thereof or shall make any unjust or unreasonable division or apportionment thereof the commission may after hearing upon its own motion or upon complaint fix the proportion to which each public utility shall be entitled

Section 307 Sliding Scale of Rates (a) Any public utility except a common carrier may establish a sliding scale of rates or such other method for the automatic adjustment of the rates of the public utility as shall provide a just and reasonable return on the fair value of the property used and useful in the public service to be determined upon such equitable or reasonable basis as shall provide such fair return Provided That a tariff showing the scale of rates under such arrangement is first filed with the commission and such tariff and each rate set out therein approved by it The commission may revoke its approval at any time and fix other rates for any such public utility if after notice and hearing the commission finds the existing rates unjust or unreasonable

(b) The commission by regulation or order upon reasonable notice and after hearing may prescribe for any class of public utilities except a common carrier a mandatory system for the automatic adjustment of their rates by means of a sliding scale of rates or other method on the same basis as provided in paragraph (a) to become effective when and in the manner prescribed in such regulation or order Every such public utility shall within such time as shall be prescribed by the commission file tariffs showing the rates established in accordance with such regulation or order

Section 308 Voluntary Changes in Rates (a) Unless the commission otherwise orders no public utility shall make any change in any existing and duly established rate except after thirty days' notice to the commission which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the rates then in force and the time when the changed rates will go into effect The public utility shall also give such notice of the proposed changes to other interested persons as the commission in its discretion may direct All proposed changes shall be shown by filing new tariffs or supplements to existing tariffs filed and in force at the time The commission for good cause shown may allow changes in rates without requiring the thirty days' notice under such conditions as it may prescribe

(b) Whenever there is filed with the commission by any public utility any tariff stating a new rate the commission may either upon complaint or upon its own motion upon reasonable notice enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of such rate and pending such hearing and the decision thereon the commission upon filing with such tariff and delivering to the public utility affected thereby a statement in writing of its reasons therefor may at any time before it becomes effective suspend the operation of such rate for a period not longer than six months from the time such rate would otherwise become effective and an additional period of not more than three months pending such decision the rate in force when the tariff stating the new rate was filed shall continue in force during the period of suspension unless the commission shall establish a temporary rate as authorized in section three hundred ten of This act The commission shall consider the effect of such suspension in finally determining and prescribing the rates to be thereafter charged and collected by such public utility

(c) If after such hearing the commission finds any such rate to be unjust or unreasonable or in anywise in violation of law the commission shall determine the just and reasonable rate to be charged or applied by the public utility for the service in question and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the public utility and such rate shall thereafter be observed until changed as provided by this act

Section 309 Rates Fixed on Complaint Whenever the commission after reasonable notice and hearing upon its own motion or upon complaint finds that the existing rates of any public utility for any service are unjust unreasonable or in anywise in violation of any provision of law the commission shall determine the just and reasonable rates (including maximum or minimum rates) to be thereafter observed and in force and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the public utility and such rates shall constitute the legal rates of the public utility until changed as provided in this act

Section 310 Temporary Rates (a) The commission may in any proceeding involving the rates of a public utility brought either upon its own motion or upon complaint after reasonable notice and hearing if it be of opinion that the public interest so requires immediately fix determine and prescribe temporary rates to be charged by such public utility pending the final determination of such rate proceeding Such temporary rates so fixed determined and prescribed shall be sufficient to provide a return of not less than five per centum upon the original cost less booked accrued depreciation of the physical property (when first devoted to public use) of such public utility used and useful in the public service and if the duly verified reports of such public utility to the commission do not show such original cost less booked accrued depreciation of such property the commission may estimate such cost less depreciation and fix determine and prescribe rates as hereinbefore provided

(b) If any public utility does not have as part of its records a permanent inventory or property account kept in the manner prescribed by the commission under the provisions of section five hundred two of this act then the commission after reasonable notice and hearing may establish temporary rates which shall be sufficient to provide a return of not less than an amount equal to the operating income for the year ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or such other subsequent year as the commission may deem proper to be determined on the basis of data appearing in the annual report of such public utility to the commission for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or such other year as the commission may deem proper plus or minus such return as the commission may prescribe from time to time upon such net changes of the physical property as are reported to and approved for rate-making purposes by the commission Provided That the commission in determining the basis for temporary rates may make such adjustments in the annual report data as may in the judgment of the commission be necessary and proper

(c) The commission may in the manner hereinbefore set forth fix determine and prescribe temporary rates every month or at any other interval if it be of opinion that the public interest so requires and the existence of proceedings begun for the purpose of establishing final rates shall not prevent the commission from changing every month or at any other interval such temporary rates as it has previously fixed determined and prescribed

(d) Whenever the commission upon examination of any annual or other report or of any papers records books or documents or of the property of any public utility shall be of opinion that any rates of such public utility are producing a return in excess of a fair return upon the fair value of the property of such public utility used and useful in its public service the commission may by order prescribe for a trial period of at least six months which trial period may be extended for one additional period of six months such temporary rates to be observed by such public utility as in the opinion of the commission will produce a fair return upon such fair value and the rates so prescribed shall become effective upon the date specified in the order of the commission Such rates so prescribed shall become permanent at the end of such trial period or extension thereof unless at any time during such trial period or extension thereof the public utility involved shall complain to the commission that the rates so prescribed are unjust or unreasonable Upon such complaint the commission after hearing shall determine the issues involved and pending final determination the rates so prescribed shall remain in effect

(e) Temporary rates so fixed determined and prescribed under this section shall be effective until the final determination of the rate proceeding unless terminated sooner by the commission In every proceeding in which temporary rates are fixed determined and prescribed under this section the commission shall consider the effect of such rates in fixing determining and prescribing rates to be thereafter demanded or received by such public utility on final determination of the rate proceeding If upon final disposition of the issues involved in such proceedieng the rates as finally determined are in excess of the rates prescribed in such temporary order then such public utility shall be permitted to amortize and recover by means of a temporary increase over and above the rates finally determined such sum as shall represent the difference between the gross income obtained from the rates prescribed in such temporary order and the gross income which would have been obtained under the rates finally determined if applied during the period such temporary order was in effect

Section 311 Valuation of Property of a Public Utility The commission may after reasonable notice and hearing ascertain and fix the fair value of the whole or any part of the property of any public utility in so far as the same is material to the exercise of the jurisdiction of the commission and may make revaluations from time to time and ascertain the fair value of all new construction extensions and additions to the property of any public utility When any public utility furnishes more than one of the different types of utility service enumerated in paragraph seventeen of section two of this act the commission shall segregate the property used and useful in furnishing each type of such service and shall not consider the property of such public utility as a unit in determining the value of the property of such public utility for the purpose of fixing rates

Section 312 Burden of Proof in Rate Proceedings In any proceeding upon the motion of the commission involving any proposed or existing rate of any public utility or in any proceeding upon complaint involving any such proposed rate the burden of proof to show that the rate involved is just and reasonable shall be upon the public utility The commission shall give to the hearing and decision of any such proceeding preference over all other proceedings and decide the same as speedily as possible

Section 313 Refunds (a) If in any proceeding involving rates the commission shall determine that any rate received by a public utility was unjust or unreasonable or was in violation of any regulation or order of the commission or was in excess of the applicable rate contained in an existing and effective tariff of such public utility the commission shall have the power and authority to make an order requiring the public utility to refund the amount of any excess paid by any patron in consequence of such unlawful collection within two years prior to the date of the filing of the complaint together with interest at the legal rate from the date of each such excessive payment In making a determination under this section the commission need not find that the rate complained of was extortionate or oppressive Any order of the commission awarding a refund shall be made for and on behalf of all patrons subject to the same rate of the public utility The commission shall state in any refund order the exact amount to be paid the reasonable time within which payment shall be made and shall make findings upon pertinent questions of fact An appeal may be taken to the Superior Court from any refund order but if no such appeal is taken the parties shall be bound by the findings and orders of the commission

(b) If the public utility fails to make refunds within the time for payment fixed by any final order of the commission or any appellate court as the case may be any patron entitled to any refund may sue therefor in any Court of Common Pleas of this Commonwealth and the findings and order made by the commission shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated and that the amount awarded is justly due the plaintiff in such suit and the defendant public utility shall not be permitted to avail itself of the defense that the service was in fact rendered to the plaintiff at the rate contained in its tariffs in force at the time payment was made and received nor shall the defendant public utility be permitted to avail itself of the defense that the rate was reasonable Provided That any patron entitled to any refund shall be entitled to recover in addition to the amount of refund a penalty of fifty per centum of the amount of such refund together with all court costs and reasonable attorney fees No suit may be maintained for a refund unless instituted within one year from the date of the order of the commission or its final affirmance by an appelate court Any number of patrons entitled to such refund may join as plaintiffs and recover their several claims in a single action in which action the court shall render a judgment severally for each plaintiff as his interest may appear

(c) No action shall be brought in any court for a refund unless and until the commission shall have determined that the rate in question was unjust or unreasonable or in violation of any regulation or order of the commission or in excess of the applicable rate contained in an existing and effective tariff and then only to recover such refunds as may have been awarded and directed to be paid by the commission in such order

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 875, (Senate Bill No. 6), as follows:

An Act relating to employes and organizations thereof defining labor disputes prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes and the scope thereof declaring certain undertakings and promises between employers and employes contrary to public policy and void prescribing the nature of proof necessary in actions arising out of labor disputes against persons or associations prescribing the terms and conditions for bonds to be furnished prior to the issuance of injunctions prescribing the procedure in case of appeal from granting injunctions limiting the duration of temporary and permanent injunctions in case of labor disputes and providing for the payment of costs and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Labor Anti-Injunction Act"

Section 2 In the interpretation of this act and in determining the jurisdiction and authority of the courts of this Commonwealth as such jurisdiction and authority are defined and limited in this act the public policy of this Commonwealth is hereby declared as follows

(a) Under prevailing economic conditions developed with the aid of governmental authority for owners of property to organize in the corporate and other forms of ownership association the individual unorganized worker is commonly helpless to exercise actual liberty of contract and to protect his freedom of labor and thereby to obtain acceptable terms and conditions of employment wherefore though he should be free to decline to associate with his fellows it is necessary that he have full freedom of association self-organization and designation of representatives of his own choosing to negotiate the terms and conditions of his employment and that he shall be free from the interference restraint or coercion of employers of labor or their agents in the designation of such representatives or in self-organization or in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection

(b) Equity procedure that permits a complaining party to obtain sweeping injunctive relief that is not preceded by or conditioned upon notice to and hearing of the responding party or parties or that permits sweeping injunctions to issue after hearing based upon written affidavits alone and not wholly or in part upon examination confrontation and cross-examination of witnesses in open court is peculiarly subject to abuse in labor litigation for the reasons that

(1) The status quo cannot be maintained but is necessarily altered by the injunction

(2) Determination of issues of veracity and of probability of fact from affidavits of the opposing parties that are contradictory and under the circumstances untrustworthy rather than from oral examination in open court is subject to grave error

(3) Error in issuing the injunctive relief is usually irreparable to the opposing party and

(4) Delay incident to the normal course of appellate practice frequently makes ultimate correction of error in law or in fact unavailing in the particular case

Section 3 When used in this act and for the purposes of this act

(a) A case shall be held to involve or to grow out of a labor dispute when the case involves persons who are engaged in a single industry trade craft or occupation or have direct or indirect interests therein or who are employes of the same employer or who are members of the same or an affiliated organization of employers or employes whether such dispute is (1) between one or more employers or associations of employers and one or more employes or associations of employes (2) between one or more employers or associations of employers and one or more employers or associations of employers or (3) between one or more employes or association of employes and one or more employes or association of employes or when the case involves any conflicting or competing interests in a "labor dispute" (as hereinafter defined) of "persons participating or interested" therein (as hereinafter defined)

(b) A person or association shall be held to be a person participating or interested in a labor dispute if relief is sought against him or it and if he or it is engaged in the same industry craft or occupation in which such dispute occurs or has a direct or indirect interest therein or is a member officer or agent of any association composed in whole or in part of employers or employes engaged in such industry trade craft or occupation

(c) The term "labor dispute" includes any controversy concerning terms or conditions of employment or concerning the association or representation or persons in negotiating fixing maintaining changing or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment or concerning employment relations or any other controversy arising out of the respective interests of employer and employe regardless of whether or not the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employe and regardless of whether or not the employes are on strike with the employer

(d) The term "court" includes every Court of Common Pleas of the several counties of this Commonwealth including the judge or judges thereof

(e) The term "complainant" includes every person whether plaintiff or defendant in the cause who seeks affirmative relief

(f) The term "defendant" includes every person whether plaintiff or defendant in the cause against whom affirmative relief is sought

(g) The term "employer" is declared to include master and shall also include natural persons partnerships unincorporated associations joint-stock companies corporations for profit corporations not for profit municipal corporations the Commonwealth and all governmental agencies created by it receivers in equity and trustees or receivers in bankruptcy

(h) The term "employe" is declared to include all natural persons who perform services for other persons and shall not be limited to the employes of a particular employer and shall include any individual who has ceased work as a consequence of or in connection with any matter involved in a labor dispute

(i) The term "organization" shall mean every unincorporated or incorporated association of employers or employes

(j) The term "labor organization" shall mean every organization of employes not dominated or controlled by any employer or any employer organization having among its purposes that of collective bargaining as to terms and conditions of employment

(k) The term "employer organization" shall mean every association of or agency representing or maintained by employers having among its purposes or activities that of studying or advising concerning relations between employers and employes or bargaining negotiating or dealing with employes or labor organizations

Section 4 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction to issue any restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction in a case included within this act except in strict conformity with the provisions of this act nor shall any such restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction be issued contrary to the public policy declared in this act Exclusive jurisdiction and power to hear and determine all actions and suits coming under the provisions of this act shall be vested in the Court of Common Pleas of the several counties of this Commonwealth

Section 5 Any undertaking or promise such as is described in this section or any other undertaking or promise in conflict with the public policy declared in section two of this act is hereby declared to be contrary to the public policy of this Commonwealth shall not be enforceable in any court of this Commonwealth and shall not afford any basis for the granting of legal or equitable relief by any such court against a party to such undertaking or promise or against any other persons who may advise urge or induce either party thereto to act in disregard of such undertaking or promise including specifically the following

Every undertaking or promise hereafter made whether written or oral express or implied constituting or contained in any contract or agreement of hiring or employment between any individual firm company association or corporation and any employer or prospective employe of the same whereby

(a) Either party to such contract or agreement undertakes or promises not to join become or remain a member of any labor organization or of any employer organization or

(b) Either party to such contract or agreement undertakes or promises that he will withdraw from an employment relation in the event that he joins becomes or remains a member of any labor organization or of any employer organization

Section 6 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue any restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction which in specific or general terms restrains or prohibits any person association or corporation from doing whether singly or in concert with others notwithstanding any promise undertaking contract or agreement to the contrary any of the following acts

(d) By all lawful means aiding any person who is being proceeded against in or is prosecuting any action or suit involving or arising out of a labor dispute in any court of the United States or of this Commonwealth or of any state

(e) Giving publicity to and obtaining or communicating information regarding the existence of or the facts or merits involved in any labor dispute whether by advertising speaking or picketing or patrolling any public street or place where any person or persons may lawfully be or by any other method not involving misrepresentation fraud duress violence breech of the peace or threat thereof

(f) Organizing themselves forming joining or assisting in labor organizations bargaining collectively with an employer by representatives freely chosen and controlled by themselves or for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection or engaging in any concerted activities

(g) Persuading by any lawful means other persons to cease patronizing or contracting with or employing or leaving the employ of any person or persons

(h) Ceasing or refusing to work with any person or group of persons

(i) Ceasing or refusing to work on any goods materials machines or other commodities

(j) Assembling peaceably to do or to organize to do any of the acts heretofore specified or to promote their lawful interests

(k) Advising or notifying any person or persons of an intention to do or not to do any of the acts heretofore specified

(l) Agreeing with other persons to do or not to do any of the acts heretofore specified

(m) Advising urging or otherwise causing or inducing without misrepresentation fraud or violence others to do or not to do the acts heretofore specified and

(n) Doing in concert with others any or all of the acts heretofore specified Provided That the specific enumeration in this section of acts which may not be restrained or enjoined shall not be construed to authorize the injunction or restraint of any act or acts not heretofore enjoinable or restrainable

Section 7 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue a restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction

(a) Upon the ground that any of the persons participating or interested in the labor dispute constitute or are engaged in an unlawful combination or conspiracy because of the doing in concert of the acts enumerated in section six of this act or

(b) Forbidding any of the acts enumerated in section six upon the ground that illegal acts have been committed or threatened in the course of any labor dispute or that any ends sought to be accomplished by any party to the labor dispute are illegal

Section 8 No officer or member of any association or organization and no association or organization participating or interested in a labor dispute as herein defined shall be held responsible or liable in any civil action at law or suit in equity or in any criminal prosecution for the unlawful acts of individual officers members or agents except upon proof beyond a reasonable doubt in criminal cases and by the weight of evidence in other cases and without the aid of any presumptions of law or fact both of (a) the doing of such acts by persons who are officers members or agents of any such association or organization and (b) actual participation in or actual authorization of such acts or of ratification of such acts after actual knowledge thereof by such association or organization

Section 9 No court of this Commonwealth shall issue any restraining order or a temporary or permanent injunction in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except after hearing the testimony of witnesses in open court (with opportunity for cross-examination) in support of the allegations of a complaint made under oath and testimony in opposition thereto if offered and except after findings of fact by the court to the effect

(a) That unlawful acts have been threatened and will be committed unless restrained or have been committed and will be continued unless restrained but no temporary or permanent injunction or temporary restraining order shall be issued on account of any threat or unlawful act excepting against the person or persons association or organization making the threat or committing the unlawful act or actually authorizing or ratifying the same after actual knowledge thereof

(b) That substantial and irreparable injury to complainant's property will follow unless the relief requested is granted

(c) That as to each item of relief granted greater injury will be inflicted upon complainant by the denial of relief than will be inflicted upon defendants by granting of relief

(d) That no item of relief granted is relief which is prohibited under section six of this act

(e) That complainant has no adequate remedy at law and

(f) That the public officers charged with the duty to protect complainant's property are unable to furnish adequate protection

Such hearing shall be held only after a verified bill of complaint and a verified bill of particulars specifying in detail the time place and the nature of the acts complained of and the names of the persons alleged to have committed the same or participated therein have been served and after due and personal notice thereof has been given in such manner as the court shall direct to all known persons against whom relief is sought and also to the chief of those public officials of the county and city within which the unlawful acts have been threatened or committed charged with the duty to protect complainant's property The hearing shall consist of the taking of testimony in open court with opportunity for cross-examination and testimony in opposition thereto if offered and no affidavits shall be received in support of any of the allegations of the complaint

Section 10 No temporary restraining order or temporary injunction shall be issued in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except on condition that complainant shall first file an undertaking with adequate security in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient to recompense those enjoined for any loss expense or damage caused by the improvident or erroneous issuance of such order or injunction including all reasonable costs (together with a reasonable attorney's fee) and expense of defense against the order or against the granting of any injunctive relief sought in the same proceeding and subsequently denied by the court

The undertaking herein mentioned shall be understood to signify an agreement entered into by the complainant and the surety upon which a decree may be rendered in the same suit or proceedings against said complainant and surety upon a hearing to assess damages of which hearing complainant and surety shall have reasonable notice the said complainant and surety submitting themselves to the jurisdiction of the court for that purposes But nothing herein contained shall deprive any party having a claim or cause of action under or upon such undertaking from electing to pursue his ordinary remedy by suit at law or in equity

Section 11 No restraining order or temporary or permanent injunctive relief shall be granted to any complainant in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute who has failed to comply with any obligation imposed by law which is involved in the labor dispute in question or who has failed to make every reasonable effort to settle such dispute either by negotiation or with the aid of any available governmental machinery of mediation or voluntary arbitration or has violated the public policy as declared in section two

Section 12 No restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction shall be granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute except on the basis of findings of fact made and filed by the court in the record of the case prior to the issuance of such restraining order or injunction and every restraining order or injunction granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall include only a prohibition of such specific act or acts as may be expressly complained of in the bill of complaint or petition filed in such case and as shall be expressly included in said findings of fact made and filed by the court as provided herein and shall be binding only upon the parties to the suit their agents servants and employes who shall by personal service or otherwise have secured actual notice of the same

Section 13 No court of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction or power in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute to issue a temporary restraining order or temporary injunction where employes are defendants or the employer either in anticipation of or at or subsequent to the inception of a labor dispute has employed persons or assigned other employes to perform the duties of employes then or subsequently not working because of the labor dispute unless prior to the granting of such restraining order or temporary injunction the said employer has discharged such persons and reassigned the other employes back to their former duties and such facts shall be averred under oath in the application for the temporary restraining order or temporary injunction and no temporary restraining order or temporary injunction shall issue unless it contains the following provision

"This order (or injunction) shall remain in effect only so long as ..... (name of employer) shall not employ persons or transfer employes to perform the duties of those now or hereafter not working because of the labor dispute"

Section 14 Every restraining order temporary or permanent injunction issued by a court of this Commonwealth in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall contain the following provision

"That complainant and/or the employer and their or either if their agents or employes shall be enjoined from any and all acts or threats of violence intimidation coercion molestation libel or slander against the respondents or organizations engaged in the labor dispute"

Section 15 Whenever any court of this Commonwealth shall issue or deny any temporary injunction in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute the court shall upon the request of any party to the proceedings and on his filing the usual bond for costs forthwith certify as in ordinary cases the record of the case including a transcript of the evidence taken to the Supreme Court for its review Upon the filing of such record in the Supreme Court the appeal shall be heard and the temporary injunctive order affirmed modified or set aside with the greatest possible expedition giving the proceedings precedence over all other matters except older matters of the same character

Section 16 Every temporary injunction and temporary restraining order issued in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall by its terms expire within such time after entry as the court may fix not to exceed ten (10) days unless the plaintiff is ready by the expiration of such period to proceed to trial and shall pay the necessary calendar and trial fees Every permanent injunction issued in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall expire at the end of one hundred eighty (180) days after the date on which the judgment is signed Provided however That the duration of the injunction may be extended for another one hundred eighty (180) days if after a further hearing initiated and conducted in the same manner as the original hearing the court shall determine that the injunction shall be continued or modified in accordance with the findings of fact on the subsequent hearing

Section 17 Upon denial by the court of any injunctive relief sought in an action involving or growing out of a labor dispute the court shall order the complainant to pay reasonable costs and expenses of defending the suit and a reasonable counsel fee

Section 18 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adapted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 19 The following acts are hereby specifically repealed

The act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred twenty-six) entitled "An act defining labor disputes and prescribing the procedure by which and the conditions under which injunctions may be granted in such disputes"

The act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-five) entitled "An act declaring certain agreements between employes and employers and others to be contrary to public policy and void"

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are also hereby repealed

Section 20 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2187, (Senate Bill No. 678), as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand six hundred one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by providing that townships of the second class shall have the power to develop their own water supply

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand six hundred one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1601 Contracts with Water Companies and Municipalities Development of Own Water Supply The supervisors of any township may by contract with any private corporation or any adjacent municipality owning a waterworks system provide for a supply of water for public and private uses to be delivered into the lines of the township at or near the boundary thereof or to be delivered through lines owned by such company or municipality within such township or any part thereof The supervisors of any township shall have full power by contract to develop an independent supply of water at any time and are not required to purchase such water supply as the township shall need from either a private corporation or an adjacent municipality Provided That no such independent water supply shall be developed if the taxpayers whose property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall amount to fifty per centum of the total property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall sign and file in the office of the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the township is located a written protest against the developing of such independent supply of water by the township

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, at the suggestion of the sponsor of this bill after a conference, I move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1155, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one of clause (a) of section forty-one of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred forty-seven), entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors, and of trust estates; including the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, liabilities, accounts, trustees, herein designated as fiduciaries; the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents; widow's and children's exemptions; debts of decedents, rents of real estate as assets for payment thereof, the lien thereof, sales and mortgages of real estate for the payment thereof, judgments and executions therefor, and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof; contracts of decedents for the sale or purchase of real estate; legacies, including legacies charged on land; the discharge of residuary estates and of real estate from the lien of legacies and other charges; the appraisement of real estate devised at a valuation; the ascertainment of the curtilage of dwelling houses or other buildings devised; the abatement and survival of actions, and the substitution of executors and administrators therein, and suits against fiduciaries; investments by fiduciaries; the organization of corporations to carry on the business of decedents; the audit and review of accounts of fiduciaries; refunding bonds; transcripts to the court of common pleas of balances due by fiduciaries; the rights, powers, and liabilities of non-resident and foreign fiduciaries; the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, and liabilities of trustees durante absentia; the recording and registration of decrees, reports and other proceedings, and the fees therefor; appeals in certain cases; and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction, powers, and procedure of the orphans' court in all matters relating to fiduciaries concerned with the estates of decedents," as amended, by further providing with respect to investments of trust funds by fiduciaries.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Van Sickle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether this bill does not prevent future mortgage pools?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And it would also, Mr. Speaker, prevent participation mortgages?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. As distinguished from a pool, is that correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. That is as far as trust estates are concerned, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. As far as trust estates are concerned. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I ought to call to the attention of the members of the House a rather important question that arises in this bill. I do not know how many members of the House are familiar with mortgage pools and with participation in mortgages, but under this bill as I understand it, and as the gentleman from Northampton has said, it will prevent the future creation of mortgage pools as far as trust estates are concerned, and also participation in mortgages. I think it is very important in the smaller communities and among the smaller trust companies and in dealing with small estates, especially the estates of guardians, that they have the opportunity to invest funds in participation certificates or in a mortgage in which two or three or four or five interests may be pooled together.

Let me explain that by saying this, very often you may have an estate of some three or four thousand dollars where there are four children, all minors, and each child has an interest of seven hundred fifty dollars. It is sometimes extremely difficult to invest that money; sometimes extremely difficult to invest the sum of three thousand dollars to earn interest. I have known many instances where funds of that kind have had to lay for long periods of time without interest where the minor was in need of money or where the estate was in need of the income to carry on, and I am afraid this will close the door.

I know there have been abuses, but I believe if you will take the report of the failures in mortgage pools and participations and compare them with the failures in the bond market, industrial and other securities, you will find that the pool and participation failures are not nearly so great.

I believe in a great degree of security. There have been abuses which I believe very wisely have been corrected since 1931 and 1932. I believe the Banking Department is more aware of those conditions, and I believe the banks themselves are aware of the necessity to clean house, as I understand they are attempting to do under another bill that is before the Legislature. Therefore, I personally am going to vote "no" on this bill merely because I feel that you are going to place a hardship on the small investor with these two features in this bill.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in reply to the gentleman from Delaware I feel that it is only fair that the true provisions of this bill be called to the attention of the membership of the House. House Bill No. 1155 is an amendment to the Fiduciary Act, and I am going to ask the members to indulge me for a few minutes in order that I may explain a true picture of what this bill really does, because if the true nature of this bill were known, the membership of this House will realize that this is one of the important bills that has been presented to the Legislature at this session.

In the Fiduciary Act there are certain investments which are enshrouded by the Legislature with a degree of security. Those investments are known as legal investments, and they are permitted as investments of trust companies or fiduciaries of trust money. Now, ladies and gentlemen of the House, we are dealing with investments like trust companies or individual fiduciaries of trust funds. Three investments which have been permitted by the Fiduciary Act were, first real estate bonds, second participation in mortgages, and third mortgage pools.

Now let me for a moment explain to the membership of this House what a participation mortgage is. A participation mortgage is a mortgage divided into fragments or sections of the whole. For example, if a trust company were to place a fifty thousand dollar mortgage it would probably be divided into fifty-one blocks, and each block would be divided and sold to a trust estate. Ladies and gentlemen of this House, we have had chaos in this State under those conditions. We have had conditions time after time where foreclosure of a mortgage is necessary and a particular estate holding say a one thousand dollar interest is asked to put up a share of the foreclosure expense, and that particular estate does not have the funds to put up the share of the foreclosure expense, and as a consequence no action can be taken by all of the holders of that mortgage.

I noticed an article in a newspaper a few weeks ago and I would like to read it for the membership of the House.

"William C. Bullitt, Ambassador to France, was refused a $60,000 surcharge against the Girard Trust Company in Orphans' Court yesterday.

"Judge Lewis H. Van Dusen ruled the company acted properly in investigating the Philadelphia diplomat's funds in a mortgage participation on the Penfield Building, 1328-36 Chestnut St.

Bullitt set up the trust fund for his divorced wife, the late Anne Moen Louise Bryan Reed Bullitt, who died in Paris January 6, 1936. Under the separation agreement, Francis Biddle, Philadelphia attorney, was to approve investments made by the trust company.

"The mortgage is now frozen and Bullitt refused to accept the $60,000 participating certificate, demanding the trustee pay him in cash."

In other words, what was admitted by this trust company,—and it was perfectly legal at the time, and I want the House to remember that a large mortgage was placed on an office building, of possibly two or three million dollars, and a sixty-thousand dollar block was sold to this particular estate. The mortgage went into default. What is the holder of that interest in that sixty thousand dollar mortgage going to do? There is nothing that he can do. One of the judges in Philadelphia was telling me a few weeks ago of a case of which he was appointed the guardian of a minor's estate a number of years ago of twelve thousand dollars. Not wishing to act as guardian he resigned and a trust company was appointed to invest and take care of that fund. Nine thousand dollars of it was invested in a mortgage on a property in Philadelphia and the other three thousand dollars was similarly invested in participation in another mortgage. The building went into default, and when the boy came of age the participation certificate was handed to him. What is he going to do with the participation certificate?

These bills are intended to make for certainty of principal and of the interest, which is important. The same situation occurs in a mortgage pool. In a mortgage pool the fiduciary takes up a lot of mortgages and divides them among certain estates, and if there is a default, all the beneficiary gets is a slip of paper showing his interest in that particular mortgage pool. I refer to a situation that arose with the Pennsylvania Company for Guaranteeing Mortgages at Philadelphia, and at a public hearing on this bill the representative of the Pennsylvania Banking Association admitted that real estate bonds were not proper for investment funds.

Now, let me call to the attention of the House what the gentleman from Delaware did not call to your attention, that is that under this act these investments are prohibited only as legal investments. There is nothing in this act that will prevent a bank from investing in this particular type of mortgage pools and participations as investments if they have the right under the terms of the trust or under the will of the testator to invest in that type of investments. And if the trust or the will itself is not restricted as to legal investment they have a perfect right to invest in the three types of investment named, but where the will itself prohibits or restricts the investment to legal inevstments, it is the opinion of the Banking Committee, and I trust it will be the opinion of this House that these investments be not permitted by this House. I ask the members of this House to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if I were to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia in terms of some whom I have encountered heretofore on some of the measures on the floor of the House, I would be inclined to say that I was amazed at the gentleman protecting the great interests of the people with as much as sixty thousand dollars. What I am interested in is the small investor.

What the gentleman from Philadelphia says about conditions in Philadelphia, every one of those things can be corrected by legislation. He is not seeking to correct it by setting up rules or regulations for protection by saying that certain percentages of an estate only can be invested, but he is wiping out the opportunity entirely. I said in the beginning, I think, that I realize there has been abuse, but in my own community I know of no conditions such as they say exist in Philadelphia. The gentleman from Philadelphia asks what do they get except a piece of paper indicating participation? Supposing they own the whole mortgage; suppose they invest in a five thousand dollar mortgage and there is a default on that mortgage. What do they have? There they have a piece of paper which is the whole mortgage, and they can foreclose and purchase the property. Suppose an estate does not have the money to foreclose, the same condition exists there as exists in the case of a mortgage pool. I do not think that the arguments of the gentleman from Philadelphia are sound or valid arguments in support of this measure. Might I say to you that these amendments were put into this bill, as I understand it,—this was an Administration bill originally, and these amendments were placed in the bill in the House Committee and did not come from the Department.

Therefore, gentleman I say do not penalize the small investor in the country district, do not penalize the small estate and the small trust fund with nonparticipation, as I know from long experience that many estates have two hundred, three hundred, four hundred or five hundred dollars, and time after time, if they did not have participation or if the trust officer cannot place those funds in mortgage pools, very often they find great difficulty in placing funds where they will bring interest.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?
